1,280 Riot At Prison

New York (AP) — Tough, long-term convicts rioted at Attica State Prison Thursday and after a day of fighting, burning and negotiating 1,280 inmates had control of 31 hostage guards and a portion of the red-brick maximum security prison.

They also wrung from the state a promise of no administrative reprisals against the rioters, which meant that they would not be subject to direct punishment by prison officials, but still are liable for violations of the penal code.

At least 11 guards were injured in the battling which was carried on with fists, clubs and other hand-wielded instruments. Law enforcement officers employed teargas, but no shots were fired in the prison.

The hostages, 31 guards and four shop foremen were kept out of sight for the most part, but a doctor who got a look at them said they were "in reasonably good shape, a few bumps, cuts and bruises," a prison spokesman said.

The inmates took over much of the prison in the initial outbreak against unarmed guards, but were pushed back to a single cellblock and yard as armed reinforcements moved against them during the afternoon.

Late in the day, with the sun sinking through a haze of smoke and tear gas, State Corrections Commissioner Russell G. Oswald went before the massed, shouting inmates in a prisonyard attempt to end the revolt.

Oswald's confrontation was said by an aide to have had a calming effect on the rioters.

At an earlier point, state police paired two by two and under orders to give no quarter stormed into the prison and recaptured three of four inmate-held cellblocks. They moved beneath a pall of smoke from the chapel, carpentry shop and other areas put to torch by the rioting felons.

"The place is blowing up," a guard was quoted by a woman clerical employee, evacuated from behind the walls at the height of the uprising.

The rioting was believed to have stemmed from a Wednesday night attack on a guard, which landed a prisoner in solitary. At its outset, it involved an estimated 500 of Attica's 2,254 inmates.

In late afternoon, the rioters launched a counterattack in an effort to retake the cellblocks from officers. Gas masks, a sub-machine gun, a rifle with telescopic sights and tear gas grenade launchers were included in the lawmen's armory. The rioters' only known weapons were their fists and their clubs.

Exon Says No One Person To Blame For Jail Deaths

By BOB GUENTHER
Star Staff Writer

In a letter to Nebraska Indian Commissioner Robert B. Mackey, Gov. J. James Exon concluded that the deaths of four Indians in the Alliance jail cannot be attributed "in all justice" to one person or group.

"The investigation indicates," Exon said, "that the four tragic deaths of Nebraska Indian citizens in the Alliance jails are not the result of intentional or unintentional criminal negligence."

"Rather, I must conclude," Exon said, "that these four deaths give tragic testimony to the socio-economic condition that bears so heavily upon our Nebraska Indian citizens."

"In my report to you on Sept. 1, I had concluded that our entire system relative to the Nebraska Indian stands indicted. These deaths bear witness to that proposition and are obviously symptomatic of the real causes involved."

Exon called the conditions in the jails "not desirable" and said he has directed Crime Commission Director Duane Nelson to provide all the technical expertise they might need in improving conditions.

To alleviate the situation, Exon said Judge Robert Moran of Box Butte County has instituted new jail rules involving 24-hour surveillance of prisoners and said the feasibility of a television monitoring system is being looked into.

The investigation was initiated by Exon two months ago after Irene Blackfeather became the fourth Indian to die in the Alliance city and county jails in less than a year.

Although the cause of Irene Blackfeather's death was listed as bronchial pneumonia caused by cirrhosis, the other three deaths were "apparent suicides."

The other three were Joe No Leaf, who died on Dec. 31, 1970; Arthur Jean Black Horse, who died on Oct. 30, 1970; and Chillo Whirlwind Soldier Swalley, an 18-year-old who died on June 28 of this year.

The investigation contacted law enforcement officials and Indian officials under the direction of Technical Assistance Director Glen Soukup.

Hurricane Fern Near Galveston

Galveston, Tex. (AP) — Hurricane Fern lashed the coastal area with heavy, driving rains Thursday night as she moved toward shore after losing some of the blustery winds built up at sea.

"She barely has hurricane force winds now," said Dave Benton, chief meteorologist for the National Weather Service here.

Fern's winds dropped from 90 miles per hour to 80 m.p.h. Thursday afternoon. When her vanguard began raking the Texas mainland Thursday night, winds dropped to from between 70 and 75 miles per hour.

As the front edge of the storm began moving ashore, heavy rains hit the flat, coastal area, with weathermen predicting as much as four to eight inches of rain before Fern dies.

A Coast Guard cutter searched 17 miles offshore for a shrimp boat which reported it was in distress.

The Galveston causeway was to be closed, although the San Luis Pass Bridge remained open between Galveston Island and Freeport. These two are the only bridges to Galveston Island.

Winds at the Galveston airport were gusting to 65 miles per hour as the storm began moving ashore. Winds in the Houston area, 50 miles to the north, were gusting to between 35 and 40 miles per hour.

The National Weather Service warned of possible tornadoes within 100 miles of Galveston and possible flooding.

Senators Reap Big Crop In Rural Nebraska Visit

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau
McCook — An entire binfull of ideas on "how to keep 'em down on the farm" was poured before Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., and two members of his Senate subcommittee on rural development Thursday night.

Elected officials, industrial representatives, villagers and farmers themselves all had their say at a 180-place dinner in St. Patrick's Church.

Nebraska's own Republican senator, Carl Curtis, and Sen. Henry Bellmon, R-Okla., are also bending their ear on a quickie visit to their home states. Four Oklahoma stops preceded the flight to Cornhusker country.

Lagging Behind
Lagging an hour behind a scheduled 7 p.m. arrival, the Senate party of 20 had hardly spooned its dessert before the suggestions started. They, of course, were the purpose of the dinner session.

Dr. Roger Mason of McCook, president of the Nebraska Medical Association, led off by reviewing the many needs of rural medicine. He particularly stressed the spiraling ratio of population to physician.

Then State Sen. Richard Lewis of Holbrook hailed Nebraska's new law providing an incentive for utilizing anhydrous ammonia in gasoline. By thus stimulating grain prices, he said Nebraska "hopes to lead the nation in solving some of our major problems."

Outlined Views
Prior to several statements by local spokesmen, all three committee members briefly outlined their views on helping rural areas.

Sen. Humphrey predicted that the current series of 10 hearings will accomplish a good deal.

"There is a receptivity in Congress today to these things," stated the former vice president. "While much of the country is urbanized, nearly everyone knows that there are no answers to urban America problems without answers for rural America."

Humphrey emphasized the role of local leadership in stabilizing population. "Nothing will be done regardless how much money is available," he warned, "unless there is a

Hearing Set Here Today

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey and two members of his U.S. Senate subcommittee on rural development will open a hearing here 1 p.m. today in the Nebraska Center.

The Minnesota Democrat, accompanied by Sen. Carl T. Curtis of Nebraska and Sen. Henry Bellmon of Oklahoma, is scheduled to arrive in Lincoln shortly after noon.

The hearing is scheduled for the auditorium in the center and is open to the public.

Some 17 persons, including Gov. J. James Exon, former Gov. Norbert Tiemann and University of Nebraska President D. B. Varner, have been invited to present oral statements to the senators during the four-hour hearing.

Others may submit written statements to the committee.

The hearing will be telecast live starting at 1 p.m. by the Nebraska Educational Television Network. The network will repeat the broadcast beginning at 9 p.m. Friday.

willingness on the part of the people."

Quick Wit

Displaying a quick wit, he quipped that "it shook me up to find I was not only encircled by two Republican senators but by a Republican River as well."

Sen. Curtis suggested that a new Statue of Liberty be erected and dedicated to "welcoming to rural America the congested, discouraged, smog-choked and crime-oppressed individuals and families from our great cities."

The Nebraskan added that "if America is going to have a future — and I'm convinced that it will — that future lies in rural America."

Many Suggestions

Sen. Bellmon spoke more generally but said the hearings have already resulted in "a great many suggestions" for improving the economy.

One farmer suggested in the question-answer period that the hearing might be politically motivated.

"At every election time the politicians are interested in the farmer," said Vic Haas of Hemingford, president of the Nebraska Wheat Growers, "but later on he's the forgotten man."

He noted that "less than 2% of government subsidies" are paid to farmers, despite publicity often to the contrary.

Low Plan Urged

Robert Downer, Banner County clerk, suggested long-term, low-interest loans to encourage young families. He said the average age of operating farmers in his county is 56.

Limited time cut short the public part of the presentation. Sen. Wayne Ziebart of Wilcox and Harold Sutton of McCook did speak briefly.

Wage-Price Stabilization To Follow Freeze's End

. . . PRESIDENT CALLS FOR BIPARTISAN SUPPORT

Washington (AP) — President Nixon urged Congress Thursday to help him build a stable economy when he ends the present 90-day wage-price freeze in mid-November.

He called for "bipartisan support in meeting the challenges of peace" and said the current freeze will be followed by some other system of wage and price stabilization to be worked out later.

The President's 25-minute speech in the House chamber to a joint session of Congress, his second this year, was televised and broadcast nationally. Membership attendance was swollen by a large delegation of diplomats and by Cabinet members.

Nixon was interrupted about 20 times by applause led mainly by Republicans. But the Democrats joined enthusiastically in applauding his declaration that "in the years ahead, we will remain a good and generous nation — but the time has also come to give a new attention to America's own interests."

In general, the President repeated his earlier request for removal of the 7% auto excise tax, for more tax incentive for business investment in new plants and equipment, and for a one-year advance in a $50 increase in personal income tax exemptions.

New Tax Plan Pledged

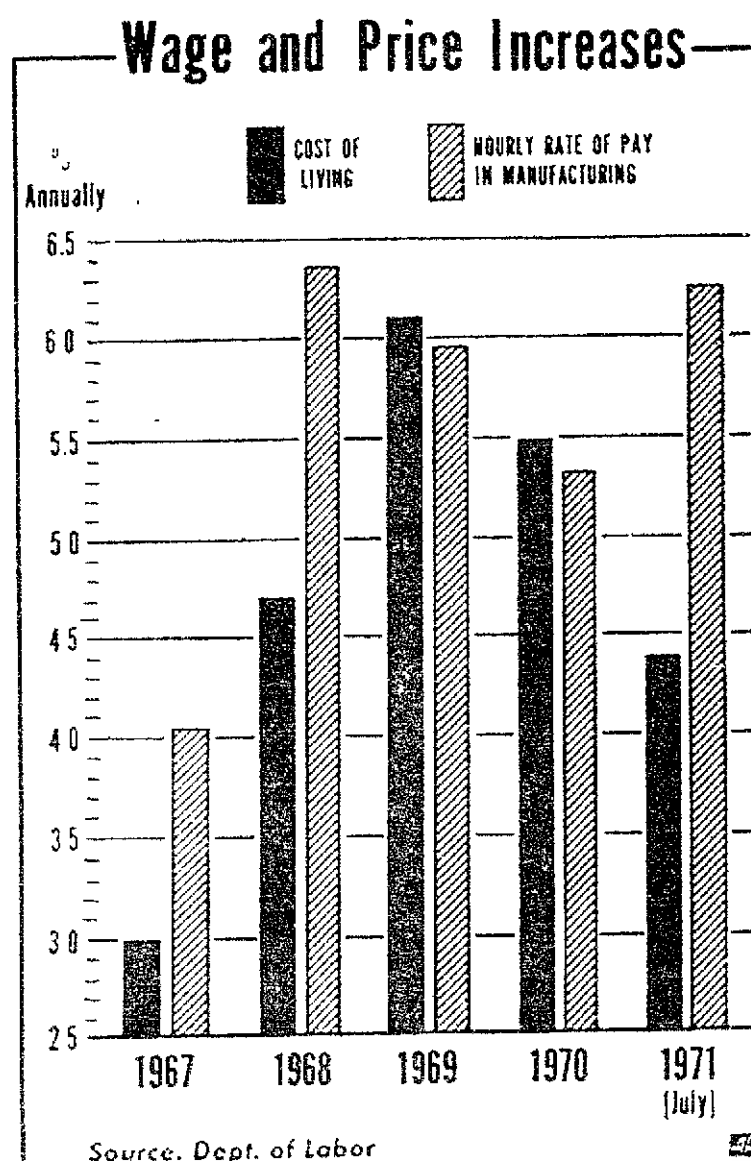

And he promised to give Congress a new tax program next year.

Nixon gave no hint of what the new economic program will be after mid-November but said "nothing would be more detrimental to the new prosperity in the long run than to put the nation's great, strong free enterprise system in a permanent straightjacket of government controls."

"Regimentation and government coercion must never become a way of life in the United States," he said.

The White House announced that Nixon will start meetings Friday with a cross-section of business, labor and congressional leaders to discuss what will follow the 90-day freeze. AFL-CIO president George Meany, a strong critic of Nixon's policies lately, will be among the labor leaders attending Friday's session.

Nixon's budget chief, George P. Shultz, told the House Ways and Means Committee that Nixon's new economic plan includes a spending-cut program of $5 billion, slightly larger than earlier estimates.

Deficit To Be Big

Shultz, director of the Office of Management and Budget, also confirmed earlier estimates that next year's federal deficit may be $27 billion or $28 billion. A major reason, he said, is that tax collections are likely to be $13 billion to $14 billion lower than was estimated in January.

Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, now considering some of Nixon's emergency requests, told newsmen he would not have advised him to announce the end of the wage-price freeze before developing a replacement program.

"I think it may weaken his bargaining position," Mills said. "It will also put everybody under a lot of pressure to come up with something."

In similar vein, Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., said the President made "a major blunder" in announcing an end to the wage-price freeze, saying it "threw away an important option."

Jackson, a possible contender for next year's Democratic presidential nomination, said Nixon implied that restraints after 90 days will be voluntary and "created further confusion. The net effect of the President's speech could be inflationary."

No War, No Inflation
Nixon asked Congress to join him in establishing "a new prosperity without war and without inflation."

To achieve the goal of a strong peacetime economy, he said, three problems must be overcome.

The first two problems — defense and armed forces cutbacks, and the rise in the cost of living — were called "a legacy of war" by the President. The third problem, "a lencency not of war," he said, is to protect the value of the dollar and "to learn once again to be competitive in the world."

New Muny Swimming Pool Design Plan Is Approved

By TOM EKVAL
Star Staff Writer

A design plan for the new Muny Swimming Pool in the vicinity of 23rd and N received approval of the Park and Recreation Advisory Board Thursday.

Board members also re-elected William Dobler as chairman and agreed on recommending approval for the mayor and parks and recreation director to set regulations on the closing of city parks.

Mrs. Ralph Beechner was named vice-chairman.

The proposed new pool would be L-shaped 100 feet long and 75 feet wide at the longest points and 12 feet deep underneath the elevated diving platform.

Parks and Recreation Director Don Smith said the pool would be heated providing there are sufficient funds when bids are received. The heating is listed as an alternate item.

The proposed plan does not include footings to later enclose the pool.

The present swimming pool, five times the size of the new pool, would be used as a parking lot for 66 vehicles.

The old bath house is planned as an ice skating warm up shelter and the baby pool as a play area, probably filled with sand for children.

The city has budgeted $200,000 for the project, part of the cost to be federally funded.

Attendance at the pool was reported to be up but revenues down this summer.

Smith also referred to the board for consideration whether the city should close the parks at a certain hour by ordinance or by regulation.

He said parks now close at 11 p.m. by policy, adding that there have been problems caused by persons in parks after closing hours.

Smith suggested a closing time of midnight to 6 a.m.

The board went along with the regulation approach because of it being more flexible. An ordinance change is still necessary to make it permissible for officers to issue an order to leave to anyone found in parks after hours and take action for violation of the order.

The board also agreed that

the requirement for groups to take out bonds and liability insurance to use parks should be eliminated except where necessary in the interests of public health, safety and welfare.

Regarding the rental of recreation centers, the board recommended the following: F. St. Center, $5 per hour; O. St. Center, $5; Antelope Center, $7.50, and Easterday Center, $10.

Blunt Words Spoken In Rogers-Fukuda Meeting

Washington (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers called on Japan to upvalue the yen and Tokyo's foreign minister sought an early end to the U.S. import surcharge Thursday as cabinet officers of the two nations started head-to-head talks on the economic crisis.

Blunt words mixed with reminders of the "close and friendly relationship between our two countries" (Rogers) and the "heart-to-heart . . . trust and friendship between us" (Foreign Minister Takeo Fukuda) as the two argued their views.

The two-country cabinet meeting is an annual affair devoted to discussion rather than decision-making. But with Japan an outstanding target in President Nixon's effort to overcome the U.S. trade deficit, the two-day session opened in the air of urgency reinforced by Nixon's economic address to a joint session of Congress.

$2.8 Billion Rate

A State Department spokesman noted that the U.S. trade deficit with Japan, running at a $2.8 billion clip this year, outweighs the total U.S. $1.5 billion deficit worldwide,

Secondly, Rogers asked for "elimination of remaining Japanese import restrictions, especially on items of trade interest to the U.S."

Fukuda said, "I do not think that our current balance of payments is in basic disequilibrium."

Import Surtax 'Concern'

While Tokyo understands the difficulties which led Nixon to impose his new economic measures Aug. 15, he said the 10% import surcharge is "a matter of primary concern to us."

"Should the surcharge remain in effect for a prolonged period, other countries might adopt countermeasures," leading to a "collapse of the free trade system" with tragic consequences, he said.

"In order to avoid such a situation, it is of the utmost importance that the United States remove the surcharge at an early date."

Both sides favored a variety of parallel and joint efforts to improve the international economic picture.

Fukuda proposed cooperative programs in developing new commercial aircraft and pollution-free automobiles.

Both Shoes Miss

Chicago (UPI) — Convicted murderer Walter McCalvin, 18, demonstrated his opinion of the judicial process Thursday by throwing one of his shoes at the jury and the other at the judge. McCalvin, already sentenced to 75 to 100 years for murder, was standing trial on an armed robbery charge. Both shoes missed.

6 Men Arrested In School Bus Bombing

Washington (AP) — FBI agents Thursday arrested six men, including the purported leader of the Michigan Ku Klux Klan, on federal conspiracy charges in connection with the bombing of ten school buses Aug. 30 in Pontiac, Mich.

Netted in the roundup was Robert Edward Miles of Howell, Mich., whom the FBI said is reportedly the grand dragon of the Michigan realm of United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

The buses destroyed in the nighttime bombing were to be used by the Pontiac school district to carry out a court-ordered school desegregation plan requiring busing of nearly 9,000 of the city's 24,000 public school pupils.

Intensive Probe

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said an intensive investigation by the FBI into the bombing incident resulted in issuance of arrest warrants by the U.S. District Court in Detroit earlier in the day.

The six men were charged in the warrants with conspiring to violate federal bomb laws, to obstruct federal court orders and to violate the Civil Rights Act of 1968.

A complaint filed with the court in Detroit charges that the conspiracy began last July 4 when the six attended a statewide meeting of the Klan at Lake Odessa near Vassar, Mich.

Several other meetings were held by the alleged conspirators to plan the bombing and a report on the incident was made to a regularly scheduled meeting of the Michigan Klan last Sunday at Miles' Farm Home, the FBI said.

The complaint also said the Klansmen discussed "additional acts of violence and destruction against the school-owned buses."

Greatest Resistance

Pontiac has been the scene of the greatest resistance to court-ordered school busing this fall, with 23 arrests made by local officials in the three days since classes began.

The arrests were the result of disturbances at schools, and no connection with the arrests.

Arrested in 46, were Wallace 29, of Drayton, Alexander Jones of Clarkston; Ramsey, 24, of Raymond, Q. Pontiac, and of Howell.

Democrat Asserts Pandemonium To Disappear From Convention

(c) Washington Star

Washington — According to Rep. James G. O'Hara, D-Mich., next year will mark the end of a political era — an era in which pandemonium, disorganization and charges of "boss control" have been among the hallmarks of the Democratic Party's presidential nominating conventions.

O'Hara is chairman of the party's rules commission, which has spent 2½ years drafting rules designed to drastically reform procedures which determine how convention business is conducted.

O'Hara presented Thursday the complete package of recommendations, ranging from a sweeping overhaul of the size and composition of committees that do much of the convention work to new provisions for housing and meals for less wealthy delegates.

"There's nothing in here that's becoming known for the first time," O'Hara said. All the changes have been discussed in the commission's public meetings, but their scope frequently has been overshadowed by vigorous debate over individual items.

Ratification Needed

Many of the proposed changes require formal ratification by the Democratic National Committee, which meets here Oct. 13-14, but a number already have been approved, and there is no indication of significant opposition to the others.

The most controversial of the 26-member commission's proposals is its formula for apportioning the approximately 3,000 delegate seats.

In place of the now-abandoned formula which tied the number of delegates to a state's population, its Democratic voting strength and its ability to deliver a victory margin to the party's last presidential candidate, the commission has adopted a

106,000 Digitalis Tablets Recalled

Detroit (AP) — Parke-Davis & Co. is recalling 106,000 digitalis tablets on orders of the Food and Drug Administration — even though the drug company says its scientific tests show no consumer health hazard.

A Parke-Davis spokesman said Thursday the recall began Aug. 23, and was triggered by "an honest, scientific difference of opinion."

The tablets, in lots numbered KL215 and KL216, were distributed last November, but the FDA warning that they might harm heart patients did not come until this spring. No illnesses from the tablet have been reported by the FDA.

Only 106 bottles of 1,000 tablets each remain unlocated, the company spokesman said. Those have been traced to 13 of the firm's 22 branch warehouses, but the spokesman said he does not know which ones.

"Our tests show they were within the FDA's tolerance otherwise, scientific opinion," the spokesman said.

The company said he believed the tablets, under force of heart regulate heart with heart disease 8% too strong

Nixon-Kosygin Summit Meeting Said Not Planned

(c) Chicago Sun-Times

Washington — President Nixon and Soviet Prime Minister Alexei N. Kosygin have ruled out a summit meeting in connection with the Russian's visit to Canada next month, authoritative administration sources said.

The sources said Nixon has no intention of conferring with Kosygin at that time and indicated the prime minister had officially passed the word that he does not desire to see the President.

The sources strenuously disputed speculation that a summit was being arranged as part of a side trip by Kosygin to the United Nations in New York.

They left the implication that any Nixon-Kosygin meeting would be deferred until after the President's visit to China sometime before next May.

Lockheed To Pay 8% Interest On Loan

Washington (AP) — The Nixon administration formally approved Thursday a $250-million loan guarantee for Lockheed Aircraft Corp. to help build a TriStar jet plane.

The company will pay the equivalent of an 8% annual interest rate with more than 2% of that going back to government in the form of a guarantee fee.

Congress recently approved the loan guarantee for Lockheed on the recommendation of President Nixon, who said the nation's largest defense contractor would be forced into bankruptcy without the government guarantee.

The three-member Emergency Loan Guarantee Board late Thursday approved the guarantee unanimously. Lockheed will use the money, to be borrowed from a consortium of 24 banks, to help finance the TriStar project.

The TriStar project was jeopardized when the manufacturer of its engine, Rolls-Royce Ltd., went into receivership earlier this year.

after figuring in surplus balances.

"I will speak directly and candidly," Rogers said in closed session remarks relayed to newsmen.

"We believe that any country in chronic surplus, as Japan is, has an obligation to take the necessary measures — increasing imports, eliminating export incentives, stimulating capital outflow, and upvaluing its exchange rate—to bring its global balance of payments into equilibrium."

Rogers rated "a major realignment of the dollar against the other currencies including the yen" as a "critical first step" toward setting up fair international money values.

Secondly, Rogers asked for "elimination of remaining Japanese import restrictions, especially on items of trade interest to the U.S."

Fukuda said, "I do not think that our current balance of payments is in basic disequilibrium."

Import Surcharge 'Concern'

While Tokyo understands the difficulties which led Nixon to impose his new economic measures Aug. 15, he said the 10% import surcharge is "a matter of primary concern to us."

6 Men Arrested In School Bus Bombing

. . . ONE REPORTEDLY GRAND DRAGON OF MICHIGAN KLAN

of ten school buses Aug. 30 in Pontiac, Mich.

Netted in the roundup was Robert Edward Miles of Howell, Mich., whom the FBI said is reportedly the grand dragon of the Michigan realm of United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

The buses destroyed in the nighttime bombing were to be used by the Pontiac school district to carry out a court-ordered school desegregation plan requiring busing of nearly 9,000 of the city's 24,000 public school pupils.

Intensive Probe
FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said an intensive investigation by the FBI into the bombing incident resulted in issuance of arrest warrants by the U.S. District Court in Detroit earlier in the day.

The six men were charged in the warrants with conspiring to violate federal bomb laws, to obstruct federal court orders and to violate the Civil Rights Act of 1968.

A complaint filed with the court in Detroit charges that the conspiracy began last July 4 when the six attended a statewide meeting of the Klan at Lake Odessa near Vassar, Mich.

Several other meetings were held by the alleged conspirators to plan the bombing and a report on the incident was made to a regularly scheduled meeting of the Michigan Klan last Sunday at Miles' Farm Home, the FBI said.

The complaint also said the Klansmen discussed "additional acts of violence and destruction against the school-owned buses."

Greatest Resistance
Pontiac has been the scene of the greatest resistance to court-ordered school busing this fall, with 23 arrests made by local officials in the three days since classes began.

The arrests by local police were the result of picketing and disturbances at the city's schools, and apparently have no connection with the FBI's arrests.

Arrested in addition to Miles, 46, were Wallace Elwood Fruit, 29, of Drayton Plains, Mich.; Alexander John Distel Jr., 28, of Clarkston; Dennis Clayton Ramsey, 24, of Drayton Plains; Raymond Quick Jr., 24, of Pontiac, and Edmund Reimer of Howell.

The dynamite bombs destroyed 10 buses and damaged others parked on the school district bus lot. However, it failed to prevent the busing of students which began Tuesday.

The complaint also says the six, along with others, gathered at a Klan meeting Sunday Sept. 5 at which they discussed the bombing and "expressed pleasure that no physical evidence of their deed had been found."

Detroit (AP) — Parke-Davis & Co. is recalling 106,000 digitalis tablets on orders of the Food and Drug Administration — even though the drug company says its scientific tests show no consumer health hazard.

A Parke-Davis spokesman said Thursday the recall began Aug. 23, and was triggered by "an honest, scientific difference of opinion."

"Our tests show they were within the prescribed limits. The FDA tests showed otherwise. There was an honest, scientific difference of opinion," the company spokesman reported.

The company spokesman said he believes the FDA found the tablets, used to increase the force of heart contractions and regulate heartbeats in persons with heart disease, were about 8% too strong.

Democrat Asserts Pandemonium
To Disappear From Convention

(c) Washington Star

Washington — According to Rep. James G. O'Hara, D-Mich., next year will mark the end of a political era — an era in which pandemonium, disorganization and charges of "boss control" have been among the hallmarks of the Democratic Party's presidential nominating conventions.

Ratification Needed
Many of the proposed changes require formal ratification by the Democratic National Committee, which meets here Oct. 13-14, but a number already have been approved, and there is no indication of significant opposition to the others.

The most controversial of the 26-member commission's proposals is its formula for apportioning the approximately 3,000 delegate seats.

In place of the now-abandoned formula which tied the number of delegates to a state's population, its Democratic voting strength and its ability to deliver a victory margin to the party's last presidential candidate, the commission has adopted a formula based 50% on population and 50% on past Democratic vote.

Changed To 53-47

The Democratic National Committee changed that formula to 53% electoral vote and 47% past Democratic vote. Both approaches would substantially increase the representation of Northern industrial states at the expense of rural and Southern states.

The committee's formula has been challenged in court.

One of the most drastic reforms is the abolition of the tradition of lengthy nominating and seconding speeches for presidential candidates, serious and otherwise, followed by equally long "spontaneous demonstrations" on the floor.

Beginning next year, each candidate's nominating and seconding speeches will be limited to a total of 15 minutes, and the time consumed for demonstrations will be deducted from that total.

'Retreating' Reds Not Contacted Yet

Saigon (AP) — Behind a blanket of bombs from U.S. B52s, South Vietnamese infantrymen pushed to within two miles of the Laotian border Thursday without resistance.

By nightfall of the fourth day of their new drive below the demilitarized zone, the Saigon troops had yet to report major contact with the retreating North Vietnamese.

Hanoi's forces, estimated at up to 18,000 in the northwestern sector of South Vietnam two weeks ago, were now believed to number between 6,000 and 10,000 men.

Allied intelligence reports indicated the North Vietnamese were still pulling back into Laos and North Vietnam in the face of incessant U.S. aerial pounding and allied artillery bombardments.

In the latest advance of the South Vietnamese sweep, American helicopters ferried 1,000 fresh troops Thursday to jungle-cleared landing zones two miles from the Laos frontier.

Associated Press correspondent Richard Blystone flew to two forward bases northeast and east of Khe Sanh where U.S. artillery units had moved in to support the South Vietnamese operation.

Blystone reported one battalion of artillerymen were deployed at the two bases he visited, Camp Vandegrift and Elliott, and another battalion was manning three other bases in the Khe Sanh area.

In all, about 1,000 U.S. artillerymen and 24 guns were spread out on the five bases. The guns were mostly 8-inch howitzers plus a few long-range 175-mm artillery pieces.

The U.S. Command's weekly casualty summary listed 16 American combat deaths last week, three fewer than the previous week and the eighth straight week that U.S. battle deaths fell below 20. The command said 84 Americans were wounded last week, 13 fewer than a week earlier, and that 15 Americans died from accidents or illness last week, an increase of 11 in that category.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported 230 government troops killed and 579 wounded, compared with 269 killed and 585 wounded in the previous week.

Both allied commands claimed 1,741 enemy killed during the seven-day period ending at midnight last Saturday, an increase over the previous week's claim of 1,264 enemy killed.

POSTCARD by Stan

A breezy, sunny day on San Francisco Bay. Chockful of vitamins and organic foods. It is our health period. Nuts and raisins.

Dangerous stuff to get on health kicks. When I was writing obituaries for the dailies, I was amazed how many healthy people keeled over.

Joe Bear. Pillar of industry. Twice-a-year checkups.

The medic pumps up the Judas cuff and listens in: "Sound as a dollar," he says. "Get some exercise. Play a little golf."

Joe goes out on the golf course. On the third hole, over he goes. Hark the herald angels sing.

What has happened to the flower children? Well, they've moved to the suburbs. Just like the straights.

Our suburbs. Our stores have blossomed out with signs: "Organic foods." "We accept food stamps." "Fresh grape juice, nothing added."

In sunny Alabama, a dahlia grew in a front yard. It did not stop growing like other little dahlias. It grew to 14 blooming feet.

The dahlia did this in a modest way. It did not go on quiz shows. Didn't join a pro basketball team. Did not phone the newspapers and demand:

"You oughta get a picture of this! Whadya mean, too busy?" The dahlia just grew to 14 feet and stood there in the front yard. A flower child to be loved and admired.

A lady in Ohio has a problem of sleepwalking. Embarrassing.

Police found her in a peach tree eating peaches. Sound asleep and completely nude. Must be a moral here. Wear a nightgown. Or have your overloving tie you down when peaches are ripe.

A Television Fan? Then you'll like the "Radio and Television Review" in the "Sunday Journal and Star." You'll also find complete program listing and preview of next week's features.

Doctors don't know why people sleepwalk. For a wonderful period, the house wren was walking in her sleep. Didn't climb a peach tree. But I had high hopes.

You need to hit gold once in awhile in this business. A sleepwalking wren in the household! Well, the possibilities made my head swim.

Peaches don't grow well around here, but I planted a small lime tree in a planter. Getting ready.

Funny sleepwalker. Once she went out in the kitchen and turned on all the burners. I had to stay awake to keep us all from getting fried. But the material that might come out of it was worth it.

Then she stopped. Just quick sleepwalking like that. Stabbed me in the back.

I said: "You could have at least pretended." She said: "I think you're making it all up. I never walk in my sleep."

What has happened to plain, old-fashioned gratitude?

If you cannot sleep at night, draw a bath of 100-degree water. Add a few drops of pine essence. A spoonful of mustard.

Get in the bath and wrap your head in a towel dipped in icewater.

Do this for 15 minutes. Then go to bed.

This was told to me by a friend who says it never fails.

I sleep like a child. (An easy conscience.) Most people turn over in bed 22 to 45 times a night. Which was discovered by bed manufacturers who wish people would whirl constantly, thus wearing the bed out faster.

I think I turn over only once. Over and out.

Thus I rise cheerfully and full of birdsong. Bonny words for all. A joy to the household. Copyright Chronicle Publishing Co. 1971

A breezy, sunny day on San Francisco Bay. Chockful of vitamins and organic foods. It is our health period. Nuts and raisins.

Dangerous stuff to get on health kicks. When I was writing obituaries for the dailies, I was amazed how many healthy people keeled over.

Joe Bear. Pillar of industry. Twice-a-year checkups.

The medic pumps up the Judas cuff and listens in: "Sound as a dollar," he says. "Get some exercise. Play a little golf."

Joe goes out on the golf course. On the third hole, over he goes. Hark the herald angels sing.

What has happened to the flower children? Well, they've moved to the suburbs. Just like the straights.

Our suburbs. Our stores have blossomed out with signs: "Organic foods." "We accept food stamps." "Fresh grape juice, nothing added."

In sunny Alabama, a dahlia grew in a front yard. It did not stop growing like other little dahlias. It grew to 14 blooming feet.

The dahlia did this in a modest way. It did not go on quiz shows. Didn't join a pro basketball team. Did not phone the newspapers and demand: "You oughta get a picture of this! Whadya mean, too busy?"

The dahlia just grew to 14 feet and stood there in the front yard. A flower child to be loved and admired.

A lady in Ohio has a problem of sleepwalking. Embarrassing. Police found her in a peach tree eating peaches. Sound asleep and completely nude.

Must be a moral here. Wear a nightgown. Or have your everloving tie you down when peaches are ripe.

A Television Fan? Then you'll like the "Radio and Television Review" in the "Sunday Journal and Star." You'll also find complete program listing and preview of next week's features.

Doctors don't know why people sleepwalk. For a wonderful period, the house wren was walking in her sleep. Didn't climb a peach tree. But I had high hopes.

You need to hit gold once in awhile in this business. A sleepwalking wren in the household! Well, the possibilities made my head swim.

Peaches don't grow well around here, but I planted a small lime tree in a planter. Getting ready.

Funny sleepwalker. Once she went out in the kitchen and turned on all the burners. I had to stay awake to keep us all from getting fried. But the material that might come out of it was worth it.

Then she stopped. Just quick sleepwalking like that. Stabbed me in the back.

I said: "You could have at least pretended." She said: "I think you're making it all up. I never walk in my sleep."

What has happened to plain, old-fashioned gratitude?

If you cannot sleep at night, draw a bath of 100-degree water. Add a few drops of pine essence. A spoonful of mustard.

Get in the bath and wrap your head in a towel dipped in icewater.

Do this for 15 minutes. Then go to bed.

This was told to me by a friend who says it never fails.

I sleep like a child. (An easy conscience.) Most people turn over in bed 22 to 45 times a night. Which was discovered by bed manufacturers who wish people would whirl constantly, thus wearing the bed out faster.

I think I turn over only once. Over and out.

IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

From all reports, a lot of people didn't take too kindly to the Leonard Bernstein Mass staged for the inauguration of the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington, D.C. One in that negative group was Harold C. Schonberg, critic for The New York Times.

In his account of the performance, Schonberg tells his readers of one point in the Mass where the "celebrant goes mad. He breaks the cross, despoils the altar, rids himself of his vestments."

This is at the point where the Mass implores "Give Us Peace." The call for peace is then passed on throughout the worshippers and "the audience is suffused with peace and love," writes Schonberg. He said the Bernstein Mass offers a sentimental response to great problems of our time.

Abandoning even any thought of objectivity, Schonberg wrote: "The serious musical content is pretentious and thin, as thin as the watery liberalism that dominates the message of the work. At the end, both music and text descend into a slick kind of bathos.

"For love and brotherhood of man will not solve our problems. Better housing, jobs for everybody, and adherence to the Bill of Rights will do a lot more.

"Anyway, the ones who talk loudest about universal love are generally the ones who are the greatest haters. At times Mass is little more than fashionable kitsch. It is a pseudo-serious effort at rethinking the Mass that basically is, I think, cheap and vulgar. It is a show biz mass, the work of a musician who desperately wants to be with it. So this Mass is with it — this week. But what about next year?"

Through the review of the Bernstein Mass, Schonberg has presented some sobering thoughts, which is the proper role of the critic. Art forms, after all, are supposed to be social, political and economic action tools, not merely something for our entertainment.

When art descends totally to the level of entertainment, it has lost the essence of its being, its sustenance of continuing life. Religion is not an art form, or at least it has not until recently been considered as such, but the same thing applies to it.

It is not a diversionary thing or a means of entertainment. Rather, it is an active tool for the shaping and forming of human society and it is because it has failed at this that it is now in such desperate circumstances.

For many, the answer, the way to rejuvenation, lies in the modernization of religious institutions. They seek a kind of plastic surgery that gives a good surface appearance but changes nothing that lies within.

Isn't this what so many of our young people have seen and have come to complain about? Isn't this why so many of them have drifted away from the religious moorings to which their parents had blithely anchored them, never dreaming that the anchor would slip?

Specifically, what Schonberg talks about are the front-pew parishioners who go home and castigate their neighbors, condemn minority groups, cheat on their income taxes, gyp their insurance carriers and devote every moment of their lives to the pursuit of their own selfish goals and objectives.

He talks about the man who stands firm against poverty but who thinks the answer is for the poor to lift themselves up by their own bootstraps. Or, he might be talking about the guy who thinks the current wage freeze is fine, except for the gross injustice it is working on him.

Benstein's Mass might have been an extravaganza, and even if it were a successful one, did it make a different person out of anyone in its audience? That is where it really counts and where all the institutions are counted.

What religions make better people and what elements of each religion are contributing factors to this? That is the measure which needs to be applied, not how colorful, fashionable, loud or anything else the religion might be.

McCarthy Seeking 'Pure, New Politics'

WASHINGTON — Eugene McCarthy, the Lothario of the left, has indicated to intimates that he will enter the Democratic presidential sweepstakes but would turn down the nomination in the unlikely event he should win it.

In his enigmatic manner, he has implied that his real purpose is to become the True Prophet of the New Left.

He has expressed more hostility, in private, toward the Democratic prospects on his side of the fence. For instance, he has made deprecating remarks about Senators George McGovern, D-S.D., Ted Kennedy, D-Mass., Fred Harris, D-Okla., and Harold Hughes, D-Iowa.

Those who have discussed politics with McCarthy have come away with the impression that he would like to prevent any liberal Democrat from winning the presidential nomination. If a hard-liner should become the candidate, presumably, he could stalk out of the Democratic convention like a political Pied Piper taking the disillusioned left-wingers with him.

It is McCarthy's hope, intimates believe, that he can rally the left-wing forces around himself and build a pure, new political movement in the U.S.

Footnote: Gene McCarthy and Hubert Humphrey, two former political allies whose friendship has been strained since 1968, had a quiet confrontation the other day in London. Humphrey introduced McCarthy to politics and backed him all the way to the Senate. But in 1968, McCarthy turned on his old friend and refused to support him for president. When they bumped into each other in London, however, they sat down together for a long, friendly chat about old times and future prospects. Afterward, McCarthy told friends he preferred Humphrey above all the Democratic presidential prospects.

It takes a bold contractor to bilk the police. Yet this is exactly what is happening across the country. Rep. John Monagan, D-Conn., has dug up evidence that private contractors are squeezing excess profits out of the police. Corporations charge all they can get, for example, for radio car equipment. Monagan found that some police forces pay more than others for the same equipment and that those sometimes pay higher prices although they should receive discounts. As chairman of a House legal subcommittee, the Connecticut congressman is investigating the waste of federal funds under the Safe Streets Act.

We have criticized president Nixon for appointing reluctant regulators to protect the public against commercial predators and promoters. We are now pleased to call attention to an exception.

The President appointed Miles Kirkpatrick as Federal Trade Chairman. He, in turn, brought into the commission Robert Pitofsky, who is now in charge of consumer protection. Previously, these men had prepared a critical report on the FTC for the American Bar Association. Now that they're running the agency, they are quietly carrying out their own recommendations.

One Mayor, Or Eight?

The relationship between Lincoln's City Council and the mayor's office has varied over the years according to the personalities of the officeholders. Although there have been disagreements in the past, one would have to thoroughly check the Lincoln history books to find as disagreeable a relationship as that exists between the Los Angeles City Council and Mayor Yorty.

But Lincoln municipal government has one thing in common with every other city in the country — the tendency for a number of council members to want to share the mayor's chair.

The wish to assume executive authority has been manifested of late in council debate over the creation of a board to oversee operations of the Lincoln Transportation System. The council Tuesday tabled action on an ordinance establishing a bus transportation board after deadlocking 3-3 on a proposed amendment to the ordinance. The issue will apparently be resolved only by a full seven-member council.

At issue is how strong a role the council should play in administering the new bus system — precisely, how much control it should have over the appointment and removal of the system's manager.

At least three council members, Merle Hale, Dick Hartsock and Bob Sikyta, feel that the council and the mayor jointly should vote on the appointment or removal of the bus system's general manager. "The removal power is the issue. We should keep control over removal," Hale said.

Helen Boosalis and Steve Cook — joined by Richard Baker on the amendment vote — feel, however, that the removal of a bus system manager, as with other city department heads, is an administrative function of the mayor's. They support an amendment to the bus ordinance providing that "a manager may be removed from office only after a resolution of the transportation board calling for such removal has been approved by executive order of the mayor." The council would not take part in the removal.

Mrs. Boosalis, as in the past, is again on hand to remind some council colleagues of the intent of the City Charter and of the fact that the strong mayor form of government was approved by a vote of the people of Lincoln.

Frank, Candid Opinion

Sen. Edmund Muskie, on the campaign trail in California, made a statement which will be subject to considerable interpretation. People will make exactly what they want to out of it.

At present the leading contender for the Democratic presidential nomination, Muskie said at a private meeting with leaders of the black community in Los Angeles that he was being "frank and candid" and not expressing his personal feelings when he said a ticket with a black vice presidential candidate could not be elected next year. Supposedly an off-the-record meeting, the comment nevertheless was leaked to the news media.

But, in all fairness, he also said such a situation was wrong, but that he believes it is a political reality. And, "America is a country where a black man should be eligible for consideration." Further, that his opinion was "subject for reassessment as time grows on."

Sen. George McGovern's reaction to Muskie's comments, that he was surprised, should also be examined. McGovern, the only declared candidate for the nomination, hopefully was not attributing anything racist to Muskie, but probably was surmised that Muskie even said it at all.

It can be surmised that Muskie was asked by black leaders about the chances for an integrated ticket, perhaps even urged to select a black running-mate if nominated. And Muskie, if he is essentially political enough to survive, would have to answer bluntly that a black vice presidential candidate would lead to the defeat of the ticket.

Muskie, in his positions as both a candidate and as a molder of opinion, might have been better off had he not given his opinion on the subject. But he was speaking, he thought, under secure circumstances. And, as he said, it is a political reality.

Uncle Sam Constantly Attacked From All Sides;
Other Governments' Problems Not So Well Aired

LONDON — These are hard days on Uncle Sam. In Asia, the Old Gentleman is denounced as an imperialist, and in Europe as an isolationist. One place it is said he is too rich and powerful, the other that he is too poor and tired to play his historic role in the world.

In Peking and Moscow, they say they want him to go home, and in Tokyo, Bonn, Paris and London, they're afraid he will. Meanwhile, the voices of America shout at him both to stand steady and pull back, and President Nixon, tugged this way and that, does one thing one day and another the next, trying to keep some kind of balance.

Well, if it's any consolation to the President — and it probably isn't — the leaders in Peking and Moscow have some of the same political problems, only — and it's a big difference — they don't have to explain in public what they do.

The Chinese People's Republic has recently been explaining to the Chinese officials why it invited President Nixon to Peking after denouncing his administration as "an enemy of the Chinese people." And Moscow has been even more active.

It has been announced out of the Soviet capital that Chairman Brezhnev is going to Paris, that Premier Kosygin is going to Canada in October, and that Chancellor Willy Brandt of West Germany is going to Moscow this month.

So what is going on now, at least on the surface, is propaganda war of statements, broadcasts, and diplomatic visits by political bigshots to unexpected capitals. Maybe there is something ominous behind all this, but all governments seem to be moving their politicians and not their military divisions around, and this is not a bad exchange.

If you wander around the capitals of the world these days and listen to the propaganda and watch the people, one thing is fairly clear. All governments are in trouble.

They cannot deal with the complexities of modern life or meet the expectations of their people, try as they might, whether under the Democratic, socialist, or communist systems. There are simply too many problems, but it is easy to find excuses or devils, and the most prominent of these now is Uncle Sam.

He is the British John Bull of the last age. He has political and economic interests all over the world. What he does to defend his interests in Asia hurts his interests in Europe. When he tries to establish normal relations with Peking, he is accused of dumping Chiang Kai-Shek on Taiwan and being hostile to the Soviet Union, and even indifferent to the interests of Japan.

All this makes for big statements by politicians out of the world capitals and big headlines in the press, but their statements sound more important than they actually are.

The important thing now is that all the major governments sense that they are moving into the world beyond the disputes of the last world war and even beyond Vietnam, and are trying to find out, by a series of diplomatic visits, what the shape of the new post-Vietnam world is going to be.

The communist governments are carrying on all the old propaganda themes against Uncle Sam, but Washington and Moscow are talking about

MILAN WALL

Zumberge: An 'Inside' Man

In Jim Zumberge, the University of Nebraska has found a Lincoln chancellor with excellent credentials.

Last weekend, as the university went through the somewhat diluted pagentry of appointing Zumberge, Woody Varner said he had told the search committee when it began its work to find someone "with some experience in public high education, experience as a teacher, scholar and as an administrator."

"I urged the committee to direct its attention to identifying the strongest possible educational leadership," Varner said, and he added he established an arbitrary upper age limit of 54.

The committee came up with a list of seven, and the regents and President Varner narrowed the candidates to one — a "rifle approach" as Board Chairman Robert Raun put it — and went after him and convinced him he ought to come here.

And the first most obvious thing about him that he fits exactly Varner's prescription for what the campus needed in an academic administrator.

He is 47, a scholar of some renown and a dean with former experience as president of a small state college.

During the weekend's events (slightly dampened because the impending appointment leaked out a couple of days in advance) there was not a word said that indicated disapproval of Zumberge — at least, nothing that I heard in and around the Student Union on the day of the appointment.

Some were withholding comment, to be sure, but none was saying "no" to the man. Only dissatisfaction came from a couple of people, including Regent Bob Prokop, who said they believed more candidates should have been interviewed.

Setting Example

Lincoln, Neb. It is interesting that the burning of the school buses in Michigan didn't bring cries of law and order. If the New Left had done the deed, there would have been an immediate call for law and order. However, the great patriotic Americans were perfectly justified in using violence to defend their concept of God and country.

Of course, they have the Constitution on their side, which counts blacks only as three-fifths of a people and doesn't count Indians, Orientals, Italians or others at all. They like to maintain that minority persons would hold back their super-race and make it inferior.

It's too bad they don't know that the mark of a superior person is to help and encourage others to be all they can be. Christ Himself set that example. Where is the super-patriots' Christian education? The intelligence quotient of their super-race is not as high above the minority groups as

What is evident is that Varner has succeeded in finding a man who fits into a developing pattern in college and university administration.

It's an "inside" man — "outside" man pattern which Varner appears to be attempting here, and one which might lead to fewer administrative problems than universities have suffered in the past.

As the Lincoln campuses "inside" executive, Zumberge will have to have the respect of his faculty and the trust of his students, as well as some experience as an administrator.

The respect of the faculty should come with Zumberge's reputation as a scholar.

He has an impressive list of publications, including a widely used textbook, and he has made a name for himself as an expert on glaciers, an interest which led him to leadership roles in several expeditions to the antarctic.

It's also important that Zumberge has been the dean of a new college of "earth sciences" in Arizona and has a solid background in water resources and soils studies.

Varner has already made moves in the direction of establishing a university effort in the environmental fields.

Straight out of the leadership of an environmental college at the University of Arizona, Zumberge will undoubtedly be able to supply leadership to move Nebraska into that developing discipline.

Zumberge has also given evidence that he can work with students.

At Grand Valley State College in Michigan, he had what he called a "hotline" to students so that he might keep in close contact with student concerns.

"We've got a good thing going with the younger generation," he told a news conference. "We ought to improve it."

Perhaps lesser known is the fact that the Zumberges have provided a home to as many as three students (they have four children of their own) recently in Arizona.

He ought to at least know what the kids are thinking by now, and that can't hurt him.

Those qualities—respect of faculty (and ability to attract qualified new faculty members) and understanding of students—provide just the right combination for an "inside" man as a part of a team that includes an "outside" man in Varner.

It leaves Varner to work with the regents, legislators, the governor, alumni and citizens, while giving the campus what it needs — strong academic leadership.

Undoubtedly, Varner will be looking for people with similar qualifications at both UNO and the Medical Center, both of which will also have new chancellors within the year.

The only nagging thing that remains about Zumberge is why he was reluctant enough to ask that his name be withdrawn from consideration, and then decided to accept.

"I had left a previous presidency where I had enjoyed a reasonable measure of success to return to professional life," he said. "I like to think I made the right decision."

The fact is, of course, that as a dean, he had not really left administration.

And he may have been reluctant to go through another presidential search.

Last December, he had just missed becoming the president of the University of Arizona, and he was one of two top candidates for the presidency of Purdue University last spring (the other man, a Purdue graduate, got it).

Moreover, he was not a "one off" being considered for the Nebraska job. He was it.

That may be the strongest argument for the "rifle" approach, rather than the "shotgun" method.

"I wouldn't be here today if I was among "some being interviewed," said Varner in defense of the approach.

Letters To The Editor

Brevity in letters is requested but length in itself will have no bearing on needless details and repetitious matter will be edited out of letters. Too frequent same subject may be rejected. All letters must be accompanied by writer's true name and address. However, letters will be printed under a pseudonym.

Setting Example

Lincoln, Neb. It is interesting that the burning of the school buses in Michigan didn't bring cries of law and order. If the New Left had done the deed, there would have been an immediate call for law and order. they like to think, nor is their education.

The super-patriots can also point to the minority persons — i.e., the Chinese in California, who are against busing, and we will still have our glorious differences to fight over. Of course, fighting maintains our economy and serves our national interest. We spend $85 billion on the military, nearly three-fourths of our government's budget, then we claim our military expenditures represent only 10 percent of our gross national product.

Suddenly we discover that Russia spends 15 per cent of her GNP on the military and we get panic-stricken because such a feeble country must spend more of its GNP to keep up with us, and we decide we must spend more so that we maintain our great, Godly, super-race, and eliminate anyone who doesn't belong.

If the super-patriots want to be patriotic, they could see to it that 75 per cent of our national budget were spent to develop everyone's talent, which means to encourage and support research in all areas.

We could then set the example of providing liberty and justice for all. Our society would then be so strong that neither sticks nor stones nor nuclear weapons could destroy it.

Airport Restaurant

Lincoln, Neb. The other evening we had out-of-town guests and decided to eat at the Compass Room at the airport. We had not been there for some time and were so embarrassed and shocked to see how dirty and rundown the restaurant had become.

The ceilings are black with smoke, the rugs filthy from spilled food, and the windows so dirty you could hardly see through them. Regardless of this, we decided to eat and I must say, the food was delicious and the service very good.

Why can't a city the size of Lincoln have a clean restaurant in its airport? I can well imagine the reaction of total strangers. Perhaps many are turning away at the door as we almost did, and are missing a good meal. What a sad impression for them to take with them from Lincoln.

Some soap, some paint and a little elbow grease would do wonders for the place and be something to be proud of.

I'm sure we'll never take guests there again unless something is done.

For many, the answer, the way to rejuvenation, lies in the modernization of religious institutions. They seek a kind of plastic surgery that gives a good surface appearance but changes nothing that lies within.

Isn't this what so many of our young people have seen and have come to complain about? Isn't this why so many of them have drifted away from the religious moorings to which their parents had blithely anchored them, never dreaming that the anchor would slip?

Specifically, what Schonberg talks about are the front-pew parishioners who go home and castigate their neighbors, condemn minority groups, cheat on their income taxes, gyp their insurance carriers and devote every moment of their lives to the pursuit of their own selfish goals and objectives.

He talks about the man who stands firm against poverty but who thinks the answer is for the poor to lift themselves up by their own bootstraps. Or, he might be talking about the guy who thinks the current wage freeze is fine, except for the gross injustice it is working on him.

Benstein's Mass might have been an extravaganza, and even if it were a successful one, did it make a different person out of anyone in its audience? That is where it really counts and where all the institutions are counted.

What religions make better people and what elements of each religion are contributing factors to this? That is the measure which needs to be applied, not how colorful, fashionable, loud or anything else the religion might be.

McCarthy Seeking 'Pure, New Politics'

WASHINGTON — Eugene McCarthy, the Lothario of the left, has indicated to intimates that he will enter the Democratic presidential sweepstakes but would turn down the nomination in the unlikely event he should win it.

In his enigmatic manner, he has implied that his real purpose is to become the True Prophet of the New Left.

He has expressed more hostility, in private, toward the Democratic prospects on his side of the fence. For instance, he has made deprecating remarks about Senators George McGovern, D-S.D., Ted Kennedy, D-Mass., Fred Harris, D-Okla., and Harold Hughes, D-Iowa.

Those who have discussed politics with McCarthy have come away with the impression that he would like to prevent any liberal Democrat from winning the presidential nomination. If a hard-liner should become the candidate, presumably, he could stalk out of the Democratic convention like a political Pied Piper taking the disillusioned left-wingers with him.

It is McCarthy's hope, intimates believe, that he can rally the left-wing forces around himself and build a pure, new political movement in the U.S.

Footnote: Gene McCarthy and Hubert Humphrey, two former political allies whose friendship has been strained since 1968, had a quiet confrontation the other day in London. Humphrey introduced McCarthy to politics and backed him all the way to the Senate. But in 1968, McCarthy turned on his old friend and refused to support him for president. When they bumped into each other in London, however, they sat down together for a long, friendly chat about old times and future prospects. Afterward, McCarthy told friends he preferred Humphrey above all the Democratic presidential prospects.

It takes a bold contractor to balk the police. Yet this is exactly what is happening across the country. Rep. John Monagan, D-Conn., has dug up evidence that private contractors are squeezing excess profits out of the police. Corporations charge all they can get, for example, for radio care equipment. Monagan found that some police forces pay more than others for the same equipment and that those buying larger quantities sometimes pay higher prices although they should receive discounts. As chairman of a House legal subcommittee, the Connecticut congressman is investigating the waste of federal funds under the Safe Streets Act.

We have criticized president Nixon for appointing reluctant regulators to protect the public against commercial predators and promoters. We are now pleased to call attention to an exception.

The President appointed Miles Kirkpatrick as Federal Trade Chairman. He, in turn, brought into the commission Robert Pitofsky, who is now in charge of consumer protection. Previously, these men had prepared a critical report on the FTC for the American Bar Association. Now that they're running the agency, they are quietly carrying out their own recommendations.

One Mayor, Or Eight?

The relationship between Lincoln's City Council and the mayor's office has varied over the years according to the personalities of the officeholders. Although there have been disagreements in the past, one would have to thoroughly check the Lincoln history books to find as disagreeable a relationship as that exists between the Los Angeles City Council and Mayor Yorty.

But Lincoln municipal government has one thing in common with every other city in the country — the tendency for a number of council members to want to share the mayor's chair.

The wish to assume executive authority has been manifested of late in council debate over the creation of a board to oversee operations of the Lincoln Transportation System. The council Tuesday tabled action on an ordinance establishing a bus transportation board after deadlocking 3-3 on a proposed amendment to the ordinance. The issue will apparently be resolved only by a full seven-member council.

At issue is how strong a role the council should play in administering the new bus system — precisely, how much control it should have over the appointment and removal of the system's manager.

At least three council members, Merle Hale, Dick Hartsock and Bob Sikyta, feel that the council and the mayor jointly should vote on the appointment or removal of the bus system's general manager. "The removal power is the issue. We should keep control over removal," Hale said.

Helen Boosalis and Steve Cook — joined by Richard Baker on the amendment vote — feel, however, that the removal of a bus system manager, as with other city department heads, is an administrative function of the mayor's. They support an amendment to the bus ordinance providing that "a manager may be removed from office only after a resolution of the transportation board calling for such removal has been approved by executive order of the mayor." The council would not take part in the removal.

Mrs. Boosalis, as in the past, is again on hand to remind some council colleagues of the intent of the City Charter and of the fact that the strong mayor form of government was approved by a vote of the people of Lincoln.

Frank, Candid Opinion

Sen. Edmund Muskie, on the campaign trail in California, made a statement which will be subject to considerable interpretation. People will make exactly what they want to out of it.

At present the leading contender for the Democratic presidential nomination, Muskie said at a private meeting with leaders of the black community in Los Angeles that he was being "frank and candid" and not expressing his personal feelings when he said a ticket with a black vice presidential candidate could not be elected next year. Supposedly an off-the-record meeting, the comment nevertheless was leaked to the news media.

But, in all fairness, he also said such a situation was wrong, but that he believes it is a political reality. And, "America is a country where a black man should be eligible for consideration." Further, that his opinion was "subject for reassessment as time

Sen. George McGovern's reaction to Muskie's comments, that he was surprised, should also be examined. McGovern, the only declared candidate for the nomination, hopefully was not attributing anything racist to Muskie, but probably was surpsied that Muskie even said it at all.

It can be surmised that Muskie was asked by black leaders about the chances for an integrated ticket, perhaps even urged to select a black running-mate if nominated. And Muskie, if he is essentially political enough to survive, would have to answer bluntly that a black vice presidential candidate would lead to the defeat of the ticket.

Muskie, in his positions as both a candidate and as a molder of opinion, might have been better off had he not given his opinion on the subject. But he was speaking, he thought, under secure circumstances. And, as he said, it is a political reality.

Uncle Sam Constantly Attacked From All Sides; Other Governments' Problems Not So Well Aired

LONDON — These are hard days on Uncle Sam. In Asia, the Old Gentleman is denounced as an imperialist, and in Europe as an isolationist. One place it is said he is too rich and powerful, the other that he is too poor and tired to play his historic role in the world.

In Peking and Moscow, they say they want him to go home, and in Tokyo, Bonn, Paris and London, they're afraid he will. Meanwhile, the voices of America shout at him both to stand steady and pull back, and President Nixon, tugged this way and that, does one thing one day and another the next, trying to keep some kind of balance.

Well, if it's any consolation to the President — and it probably isn't — the leaders in Peking and Moscow have some of the same political problems, only — and it's a big difference — they don't have to explain in public what they do.

The Chinese People's Republic has recently been explaining to the Chinese officials why it invited President Nixon to Peking after denouncing his administration as "an enemy of the Chinese people." And Moscow has been even more active.

It has been announced out of the Soviet capital that Chairman Brezhnev is going to Paris, that Premier Kosygin is going to Canada in October, and that Chancellor Willy Brandt of West Germany is going to Moscow this month.

So what is going on now, at least on the surface, is propaganda war of statements, broadcasts, and diplomatic visits by political bigshots to unexpected capitals. Maybe there is something ominous behind all this, but all governments seem to be moving their politicians and not their military divisions around, and this is not a bad exchange.

If you wander around the capitals of the world these days and listen to the propaganda and watch the people, one thing is fairly clear. All governments are in trouble.

They cannot deal with the complexities of modern life or meet the expectations of their people, try as they might, whether under the Democratic, socialist, or communist systems. There are simply too many problems, but it is easy to find excuses or devils, and the most prominent of these now is Uncle Sam.

He is the British John Bull of the last age. He has political and economic interests all over the world. What he does to defend his interests in Asia hurts his interests in Europe. When he tries to establish normal relations with Peking, he is accused of dumping Chiang Kai-Shek on Taiwan and being hostile to the Soviet Union, and even indifferent to the interests of Japan.

All this makes for big statements by politicians out of the world capitals and big headlines in the press, but their statements sound more important than they actually are.

The important thing now is that all the major governments sense that they are moving into the world beyond the disputes of the last world war and even beyond Vietnam, and are trying to find out, by a series of diplomatic visits, what the shape of the new post-Vietnam world is going to be.

The communist governments are carrying on all the old propaganda themes against Uncle Sam, but Washington and Moscow are talking about

Zumberge: An 'Inside' Man

In Jim Zumberge, the University of Nebraska has found a Lincoln chancellor with excellent credentials.

Last weekend, as the university went through the somewhat diluted pagentry of appointing Zumberge, Woody Varner said he had told the search committee when it began its work to find someone "with some experience in public high education, experience as a teacher, scholar and as an administrator."

"I urged the committee to direct its attention to identifying the strongest possible educational leadership," Varner said, and he added he established an arbitrary upper age limit of 54.

The committee came up with a list of seven, and the regents and President Varner narrowed the candidates to one — a "rifle approach" as Board Chairman Robert Raun put it — and went after him and convinced him he ought to come here.

And the first most obvious thing about him that he fits exactly Varner's prescription for what the campus needed in an academic administrator.

He is 47, a scholar of some renown and a dean with former experience as president of a small state college.

During the weekend's events (slightly dampened because the impending appointment leaked out a couple of days in advance) there was not a word said that indicated disapproval of Zumberge — at least, nothing that I heard in and around the Student Union on the day of the appointment.

Some were withholding comment, to be sure, but none was saying "no" to the man. Only dissatisfaction came from a couple of people, including Regent Bob Prokop, who said they believed more candidates should have been interviewed.

What is evident is that Varner has succeeded in finding a man who fits into a developing pattern in college and university administration.

It's an "inside" man — "outside" man pattern which Varner appears to be attempting here, and one which might lead to fewer administrative problems than universities have suffered in the past.

As the Lincoln campuses "inside" executive, Zumberge will have to have the respect of his faculty and the trust of his students, as well as some experience as an administrator. The respect of the faculty should come with Zumberge's reputation as a scholar.

He has an impressive list of publications, including a widely used textbook, and he has made a name for himself as an expert on glaciers, an interest which led him to leadership roles in several expeditions to the antarctic.

It's also important that Zumberge has been the dean of a new college of "earth sciences" in Arizona and has a solid background in water resources and soils studies.

Varner has already made moves in the direction of establishing a university effort in the environmental fields.

Straight out of the leadership of an environmental college at the University of Arizona, Zumberge will undoubtedly be able to supply leadership to move Nebraska into that developing discipline.

Zumberge has also given evidence that he can work with students. At Grand Valley State College in Michigan, he had what he called a "hotline" to students so that he might keep in close contact with student concerns.

"We've got a good thing going with the younger generation," he told a news conference. "We ought to improve it."

Perhaps lesser known is the fact that the Zumberges have provided a home to as many as three students (they have four children of their own) recently in Arizona.

He ought to at least know what the kids are thinking by now, and that can't hurt him. Those qualities—respect of faculty (and ability to attract qualified new faculty members) and understanding of students—provide just the right combination for an "inside" man as a part of a team that includes an "outside" man in Varner.

It leaves Varner to work with the regents, legislators, the governor, alumni and citizens, while giving the campus what it needs — strong academic leadership.

Undoubtedly, Varner will be looking for people with similar qualifications at both UNO and the Medical Center, both of which will also have new chancellors within the year.

The only nagging thing that remains about Zumberge is why he was reluctant enough to ask that his name be withdrawn from consideration, and then decided to accept.

"I had left a previous presidency where I had enjoyed a reasonable measure of success to return to professional life," he said. "I like to think I made the right decision."

The fact is, of course, that as a dean, he had not really left administration. And he may have been reluctant to go through another presidential search.

Last December, he had just missed becoming the president of the University of Arizona, and he was one of two top candidates for the presidency of Purdue University last spring (the other man, a Purdue graduate, got it).

Moreover, he was not a "one of" being considered for the Nebraska job. He was it.

That may be the strongest argument for the "rifle" approach, rather than the "shotgun" method.

"I wouldn't be here today if I was among 'some being interviewed,'" said Varner in defense of the approach.

Setting Example

Lincoln, Neb.

It is interesting that the burning of the school buses in Michigan didn't bring cries of law and order. If the New Left had done the deed, there would have been an immediate call for law and order. However, the great patriotic Americans were perfectly justified in using violence to defend their concept of God and country.

Of course, they have the Constitution on their side, which counts blacks only as three-fifths of a people and doesn't count Indians, Orientals, Italians or others at all. They like to maintain that minority persons would hold back their super-race and make it inferior.

It's too bad they don't know that the mark of a superior person is to help and encourage others to be all they can be. Christ Himself set that example.

Where is the super-patriot's Christian education? The intelligence quotient of their super-race is not as high above the minority groups as they like to think, nor is their education.

The super-patriots can also point to the minority persons — i.e., the Chinese in California, who are against busing, and we will still have our glorious differences to fight over. Of course, fighting maintains our economy and serves our national interest. We spend $85 billion on the military, nearly three-fourths of our government's budget, then we claim our military expenditures represent only 10 per cent of our gross national product.

Suddenly we discover that Russia spends 15 per cent of her GNP on the military and we get panic-stricken because such a feeble country must spend more of its GNP to keep up with us, and we decide we must spend more so that we maintain our great, Godly, super-race, and eliminate anyone who doesn't belong.

If the super-patriots want to be patriotic, they could see to it that 75 per cent of our national budget were spent to develop everyone's talent, which means to encourage and support research in all areas.

We could then set the example of providing liberty and justice for all. Our society would then be so strong that neither sticks nor stones nor nuclear weapons could destroy it.

Drought Stresses Need Of Effective Water Use

... Dean Frolik Points Out At Concord Field Day

Concord — The drought which has plagued northeast Nebraska this year is a vivid reminder of the need for farmers, the University of Nebraska and other agencies to work together for more effective use of available water, Dr. E. F. Frolik said here Thursday.

The dean of NU College of Agriculture addressed the crowd at a field day at the university's Northeast Station near here.

The university has established a new irrigation development and water resources program, initiated by President D. B. Varner and the Board of Regents, he said.

Since opportunities for expanding irrigated acreage are not as great in northeast Nebraska as in some other areas of the state, it is doubly important to learn to make best use of the rainfall there, Frolik said.

That is the reason scientists at the Northeast Station are working hard on research projects in terracing, no-tillage planting, proper stand and fertility among others, he said.

The feed grain and forage utilization program of the College of Agriculture and the Northeast Station should also help the area by promoting more effective use of its feed production potential, Frolik said.

"Add a more complete processing of livestock products before they leave the state and we will have greater use of all our resources, including labor," he added.

"A few packing plants are shipping roasts, steaks and packaged wholesale cuts, rather than the traditional beef halves," Frolik said.

"By processing our meat products to retail cuts, or nearly so, we can more fully utilize the state's labor resources, as well as feed and forage resources.

"It seems to me that the best opportunities for economic development in Nebraska lie in industries closely related to agricultural production. All segments of Nebraska's population stand to gain from this expanded livestock program," he concluded.

Blight Is Rapidly Decreasing As Potential Threat To Corn

Southern corn leaf blight is rapidly decreasing as a potential threat to the Nebraska corn crop and the chance for reduced yields due to leaf infection is practically nil, a University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension plant pathologist reported Thursday.

Dr. David S. Wysong said the only worry related to the SCLB situation to date would be further development of the infection on the ears and husks.

Exon Nixes Senatorial Race In '72

Omaha — Democratic Gov. J. J. Exon says he will not be a U.S. senatorial candidate next year.

Speaking before a luncheon audience Wednesday, Exon said:

"Because of the problems and the fantastic opportunity for making Nebraska an even better number one state, my determination is to direct my efforts in these vital areas. Therefore, I will not be a candidate in next year's election."

He also defended his reduction of some payments by the State Welfare Dept. in the Aid to Dependent Children program. He said if he had not taken the action, "the skyrocketing caseloads would have forced deficit financing of welfare."

He said he earlier had pledged his administration would not operate welfare under deficit financing.

Sting By Wasp Blamed In Death Of Dickerson, 41

Hastings — Funeral services were held here Wednesday for Ronald R. "Duke" Dickerson, 41, Hastings trucking firm owner and operator.

His death was blamed on a wasp sting received while he was painting his rural Ayr home.

Owner of Dickerson Transfer, he was a native of Holstein and lived in the Holstein and Hastings area most of his life.

Surviving are his wife, LaVerne; son, Craig; daughter, Siobhan; his mother, Mrs. Gertrude Dickerson of Hastings; two brothers and five sisters.

Nebraska News

According to the Nebraska Crop Reporting Service, close to 80% of the corn crop is dented. Dr. Wysong noted that maturity is rapidly approaching and the time is past for the use of fungicidal sprays for SCLB control.

The NU plant pathologist explained that hot, dry weather the past three to four weeks has been generally unfavorable for disease development and that these conditions have been responsible for checking the SCLB growth across the state.

According to Dr. Wysong it is too early to say definitely how much yield depression was caused due to SCLB. He added that other factors seem to be more instrumental in yield losses at this time.

Even though the SCLB fungus is known to overwinter on infected crop residue, Dr. Wysong noted that representatives from the hybrid seed corn industry indicate that resistant varieties will be generally available next year.

Teachers' Wage Increases OK'd At Nebraska City

Nebraska City — Supt. James Withee of the Nebraska City Public Schools said Thursday Nebraska City teachers have received salary increases despite the nationwide wage freeze, which apparently will affect most teachers.

Withee said he had been informed by the U.S. commissioner of education that if the salary of teachers was approved between Aug. 1 and Aug. 15, they get the increase even if they were not working during that time.

The Nebraska City contract year begins Aug. 1.

Wells Services Held At Norfolk

Norfolk — Funeral services were Thursday at First United Methodist Church here for Clyde C. Wells, 75, founder of Wells Dental Laboratory at Norfolk. He died Monday.

Mr. Wells, a resident of Norfolk 45 years, was a University of Nebraska graduate. He founded the dental laboratory in 1927.

Survivors include a son, Wayne, Norfolk; daughter, Mrs. Melvin Ward, Union City, Calif.; sister, Mrs. Katherine Chalfant, Plainview, and three grandchildren.

Accident Injuries Claim Iowa Man

Omaha — William C. Carstens, 24, of Sioux City, Iowa, died in an Omaha hospital Wednesday of injuries suffered in a car-truck collision on U.S. 275 in Beemer Aug. 21.

The State Patrol said Carstens was preparing to turn left onto U.S. 275 when his car was in collision with a west-bound semi-trailer. The truck driver was identified as 36-year-old Sten Eisenhauer of Beemer.

The death raised Nebraska's 1971 traffic fatality toll to 300, compared with 290 on Sept. 10 of last year.

Three Receive Stuart Grants

Three University of Nebraska-Lincoln students have been awarded scholarships from the Charles Stuart Memorial Fund for use at the NU College of Agriculture during the 1971-72 school year.

Wayne L. Stuehmer and John P. Diedrichsen, both of Scribner, each received $200 scholarships and Ronald C. Buhrman of Wausa was awarded a $300 scholarship.

Lutheran Group, Board To Discuss Hospital Merger

Fargo, N.D. (UPI) — Representatives of the Lutheran Hospital and Homes Association headquartered here will attempt to meet next week with an advisory board at Columbus, Neb., to try to work out a merger between Behlen Memorial and St. Mary Hospitals in Columbus.

A spokesman for the association said two representatives were named at a meeting of the association's governing board. He declined to name them because they had not yet been notified of their appointment, he said.

No action was taken at the meeting on whether to sell the assets of Behlen Memorial, the spokesman said.

The advisory board was set up this week at Columbus to try to work out details of the merger. Both local hospital boards have approved the merger, and only an affirmative vote by the governing board of Lutheran Hospital and Homes was needed to effectuate the merger, officials said.

Texan Charged With Bad Checks In Schuyler Jail

Schuyler — A 43-year-old man giving his address as Midland, Tex., who had blank checks from more than 100 banks in 20 states in his possession, was held in the Colfax County jail Thursday on a charge of issuing no-account checks.

The man identified as Edwin S. Vernon, was arrested in Fremont, Sept. 2, and returned to Colfax County where he was arraigned before County Judge Joe Broz.

Sheriff Richard Kruse said Vernon allegedly issued spurious checks in Colfax, Platte and Dodge Counties. And he said warrants on check charges and related offenses have been received so far from Oklahoma, Kansas, South Dakota and Texas.

Kruse said some of the checks apparently were issued as long ago as 1966.

$990,000 Given To Lancaster Water District

Lancaster County Water District No. 1 will receive $990,000 in the form of a Farmers Home Administration loan to build a central water supply system in Lancaster and Otoe Counties, according to an announcement released jointly Thursday by Rep. Charles Thone, R-Neb., Sen. Carl Curtis, R-Neb., and Sen.

Roman Hruska, R-Neb.

This will be one of the largest rural water systems to be developed in Nebraska under the rural community facilities program by the FHA.

The lines of the system will distribute deep well water to residents of Bennett, Panama, Cheney, and Martell and to farms and other rural homes in surrounding areas of southeastern Lancaster and western Otoe Counties.

The joint announcement also provided good news for residents of Elk Creek. The Johnson County community will receive $40,000 for a community sewer system serving 60 homes and a number of business establishments.

$350,000 Fund Tabbed For NU Crime Project

Washington (AP) — The University of Nebraska will receive nearly $350,000 to develop a model system of police, courts and corrections in the Omaha-Douglas County metropolitan area, the Justice Department said Thursday.

The grant from the department's Law Enforcement Assistance Administration (LEAA) goes to the university's department of law enforcement and corrections. It is the fifth grant of its kind to be awarded under a special criminal justice research program begun last year.

The program's aim is to conduct intensive, community-based research into problems of the area's criminal justice system and to develop a coordinated approach to all phases of crime prevention and control, the agency said.

Selection of Omaha-Douglas County as the fifth Metropolitan Criminal Justice Center in the nation was announced earlier this year.

Seeks Solutions

The program, formerly known as "Pilot Cities," seeks solutions to common problems in crime prevention that can be used by other communities.

G. L. Kuchel, chairman of the university's department of law enforcement and corrections, will head the Omaha-Douglas County project.

Jackson Slated To Address State Water Meeting

Omaha (AP) — Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., will address a joint meeting of Nebraska Irrigation and Water Resources Associations in Omaha next month.

Aside from the interest in Jackson as a presidential possibility, he is chairman of the all-important committee on interior and insular affairs, and serves on committees for government operations, armed services and atomic energy.

D. B. McOstrich of Grand Island, president of the irrigation association, announced the appearance.

The organizations will open their meeting at the New Paxton Hotel Oct. 20. Jackson will appear at a banquet Oct. 21.

Nebraska Democrats noted that the convention will offer Jackson public exposure should he decide to enter the state's presidential primary next year.

Drought Stresses Need Of Effective Water Use

... Dean Frolik Points Out At Concord Field Day

Concord — The drought which has plagued northeast Nebraska this year is a vivid reminder of the need for farmers, the University of Nebraska and other agencies to work together for more effective use of available water, Dr. E. F. Frolik said here Thursday.

The dean of NU College of Agriculture addressed the crowd at a field day at the university's Northeast Station near here.

The university has established a new irrigation development and water resources program, initiated by President D. B. Varner and the Board of Regents, he said.

Since opportunities for expanding irrigated acreage are not as great in northeast Nebraska as in some other areas of the state, it is doubly important to learn to make best use of the rainfall there, Frolik said.

That is the reason scientists at the Northeast Station are working hard on research projects in terracing, no-tillage planting, proper stand and fertility among others, he said.

The feed grain and forage utilization program of the College of Agriculture and the Northeast Station should also help the area by promoting more effective use of its feed production potential, Frolik said.

"Add a more complete processing of livestock products before they leave the state and we will have greater use of all our resources, including labor," he added.

"A few packing plants are shipping roasts, steaks and packaged wholesale cuts, rather than the traditional beef halves," Frolik said.

"By processing our meat products to retail cuts, or nearly so, we can more fully utilize the state's labor resources, as well as feed and forage resources.

"It seems to me that the best opportunities for economic development in Nebraska lie in industries closely related to agricultural production. All segments of Nebraska's population stand to gain from this expanded livestock program," he concluded.

Blight Is Rapidly Decreasing As Potential Threat To Corn

Southern corn leaf blight is rapidly decreasing as a potential threat to the Nebraska corn crop and the chance for reduced yields due to leaf infection is practically nil, a University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension plant pathologist reported Thursday.

Dr. David S. Wysong said the only worry related to the SCLB situation to date would be further development of the infection on the ears and husks.

Exon Nixes Senatorial Race In '72

Omaha (AP) — Democratic Gov. J. J. Exon says he will not be a U.S. senatorial candidate next year.

Speaking before a luncheon audience Wednesday, Exon said:

"Because of the problems and the fantastic opportunity for making Nebraska an even better number one state, my determination is to direct my efforts in these vital areas. Therefore, I will not be a candidate in next year's election."

He also defended his reduction of some payments by the State Welfare Dept. in the Aid to Dependent Children program. He said if he had not taken the action, "the skyrocketing caseloads would have forced deficit financing of welfare."

He said he earlier had pledged his administration would not operate welfare under deficit financing.

Sting By Wasp Blamed In Death Of Dickerson, 41

Hastings — Funeral services were held here Wednesday for Ronald R. "Duke" Dickerson, 41, Hastings trucking firm owner and operator.

His death was blamed on a wasp sting received while he was painting his rural Ayr home.

Owner of Dickerson Transfer, he was a native of Holstein and lived in the Holstein and Hastings area most of his life.

Surviving are his wife, LaVerne; son, Craig; daughter, Siobhan; his mother, Mrs. Gertrude Dickerson of Hastings; two brothers and five sisters.

Nebraska News

According to the Nebraska Crop Reporting Service, close to 80% of the corn crop is dented. Dr. Wysong noted that maturity is rapidly approaching and the time is past for the use of fungicidal sprays for SCLB control.

The NU plant pathologist explained that hot, dry weather the past three to four weeks has been generally unfavorable for disease development and that these conditions have been responsible for checking the SCLB growth across the state.

According to Dr. Wysong it is too early to say definitely how much yield depression was caused due to SCLB. He added that other factors seem to be more instrumental in yield losses at this time.

Even though the SCLB fungus is known to overwinter on infected crop residue, Dr. Wysong noted that representatives from the hybrid seed corn industry indicate that resistant varieties will be generally available next year.

Teachers' Wage Increases OK'd At Nebraska City

Nebraska City (AP) — Supt. James Withee of the Nebraska City Public Schools said Thursday Nebraska City teachers have received salary increases despite the nationwide wage freeze, which apparently will affect most teachers.

Withee said he had been informed by the U.S. commissioner of education that if the salary of teachers was approved between Aug. 1 and Aug. 15, they get the increase even if they were not working during that time.

The Nebraska City contract year begins Aug. 1.

Accident Injuries Claim Iowa Man

Omaha (AP) — William C. Carstens, 24, of Sioux City, Iowa, died in an Omaha hospital Wednesday of injuries suffered in a car-truck collision on U.S. 275 in Beemer Aug. 21.

The State Patrol said Carstens was preparing to turn left onto U.S. 275 when his car was in collision with a west-bound semi-trailer. The truck driver was identified as 36-year-old Sten Eisenhauer of Beemer.

The death raised Nebraska's 1971 traffic fatality toll to 300, compared with 290 on Sept. 10 of last year.

Lie Detector Expert Testifies Medina Lost Control Of Men

Ft. McPherson, Ga. (UPI) — The Army rested its case against Capt. Ernest L. Medina Thursday after calling a lie detector expert who testified that Medina told him he had lost control of his troops at My Lai.

Conclusion of the government's case came shortly after Robert A. Brisentine, an Army Criminal Investigation Division agent who administered the lie detector test, stepped down.

F. Lee Bailey, Medina's civilian attorney, is expected to move for a dismissal of the case Friday on grounds that the Army had failed to prove its charges that the 34-year-old Medina had killed, or permitted his men to kill 102 civilians at My Lai on March 16, 1968.

Jurors To Be Out

Court was recessed for the day after the prosecution rested and the jurors were advised their presence in court would not be needed Friday, since the day is expected to be taken up by a number of technical motions — including the one to dismiss.

Assuming the judge, Col. Kenneth A. Howard, orders the trial to continue, the first witness for the defense Monday is expected to be Lt. William L. Calley Jr., one of Medina's platoon leaders at My Lai. Calley stands convicted of 22 murders in the Vietnamese village, but has the conviction under appeal.

Brisentine was the government's 31st witness. In addition the prosecution presented depositions from two South Vietnamese interpreters who served with U.S. troops at My Lai.

The polygraph expert said Medina not only told him he lost control of his troops during the operation, but that he also mistakenly ordered the shooting of a small boy.

'Trickery' Charged

Bailey accused the government of "trickery" in the polygraph test it administered to the 34-year-old officer, and Judge Howard cautioned the jury against drawing any "conclusions as to the truth" of the statements simply because they were made during a lie detector test.

"Capt. Medina told me he did lose control of his troops," Brisentine said, adding that Medina placed the time of this occurrence at between 9:30 and 10:30 on the morning of the operation.

By losing control of his troops, Medina apparently referred to his contention that he did not make the infantry sweep with his troops and did not know what they were doing, but this point was never firmly established.

Maj. William G. Eckhardt, the chief prosecutor, asked Brisentine what Medina meant by the statement, and Brisentine replied: "We didn't go into that."

Counseling Training Meet To Stress Drug Problems

A special four-week training program for selected Lincoln ministers will begin Monday to prepare the ministers for counseling troubled youth with emphasis on drug use.

At the Thursday meeting of the Lincoln Fellowship of Churches, the Rev. Ron Bump of College View Presbyterian Church which has been assigned the training program, reported on the slated speakers for the sessions.

According to the Rev. Robert Jeambey, executive secretary of the Nebraska Council of Churches, it is hoped the program can be connected with larger programs since authorities say that drug use is usually a symptom of another problem which is often spiritual in nature.

He said that this is where the churches feel they have an important role.

In other business, it was mentioned that the reformed Churches in Lancaster County are exploring the possibility with other churches of sponsoring a Lancaster County or Southeast Nebraska Crusade which would be conducted by some of the Billy Graham group.

Cahill Is Arrested, Then Freed

Dublin, Ireland (AP) — Irish Republic police temporarily detained Joe Cahill, the rebel leader of Northern Ireland, on his return Thursday from an unsuccessful attempt to enter the United States.

Soon after his release, Cahill met newsmen in a Dublin hotel and described his detention as "an attempt to intimidate me." But, he added, "there was never any suggestion that I might not be released."

Government sources indicated that the Belfast rebel leader was freed because no charge could be brought against him in the Irish Republic.

"Apart from the fact that he is said to admit being a member of an illegal organization, there is no evidence that he has committed any offense in this part of Ireland," one official said.

Cahill, a leader of the outlawed Irish Republican Army (IRA), was cheered as he left Dublin's Bridewell Jail by crowds of Republicans.

Cahill's last words at Dublin airport before he was led off by Irish detectives included a promise to return to Belfast.

Cahill was arrested by detectives of the Irish Special Branch when he flew into Dublin from New York, where he had been refused permission to make a fund-raising tour in the United States.

Only 30 minutes lost a week from rejects, costs $45.40 per employee, not taking into account wasted materials.

If you employ only 10 people, the loss can be considerable; if you have 1000, it can be staggering. Large or small, few businesses can afford profit erosion like this. The MUZAK service is different from mere background music. Far different. For years, scientists studied the ebb and flow of employee efficiency.

They found it flows in a cyclic curve. By studying this curve and the employee moods underlying it, MUZAK specialists were able to discover, through exacting tests, just which kind of music would best stimulate the employee at the times of day when efficiency is lowest.

Thus, music by MUZAK is psychologically selected, recorded and programmed to vary throughout the day and fit the employee efficiency curve.

Van Pelt Urges State Action On No-Fault Auto Insurance

By BOB GUENTHER
Star Staff Writer

No-fault insurance is going to be here in one form or another soon, and Nebraska's legislators should seriously consider reforming auto insurance before the federal government does it for the state.

"This was the thrust of Insurance Director Samuel Van Pelt's testimony Thursday before the Legislature's interim study committee on auto insurance.

"I think it makes some sense," Van Pelt told the senators. "My correspondence from the public indicates Nebraskans are sympathetic. It's part of the consumer movement that is sweeping the country."

Speed Payments

No-fault insurance is a plan to speed up claim payments, reduce insurance companies' overhead and cut down on abuses. The idea is that the insurance companies whose clients are injured in an auto accident pay for their own policyholders' medical expenses. The hope is to eliminate adjuster and court costs.

The director noted that to some extent the states are "under the gun," since the Hart-Magnuson bill which would institute a national no-fault plan is currently pending in Congress.

Van Pelt indicated he favored the state approach to the auto insurance problem rather than a national plan.

"It's better to experiment on a state-by-state basis," he said.

Slow Increase

When asked by Sen. James Waldron of Callaway if no fault would lower insurance rates, Van Pelt said he was not in the dire straits Massachusetts was in. "Statistically, we don't have the crying need that Massachusetts had," he said. "We're lucky. The average wait for a trial here is 1-2 years, whereas in Chicago it can be up to 5 years."

Drawing Model

Currently, the Commission on

Uniform State Laws, a branch of the National Governors Conference and the American Bar Association, is drawing up a model no fault act which is due Dec. 1. This would be in time for the Nebraska Legislature's next session in January.

Van Pelt said this would reduce the knotty problem of jurisdiction in accidents involving people from different states.

Other areas meriting study were suggested by Van Pelt for the committees investigation.

A bumper law was one of the areas. Van Pelt said that the 1971 model cars are 10% more damage prone than their 1970 counterparts. The problem with this, he said, is balancing savings with cost.

"Another idea, he said, "would be requiring governing devices which won't allow a car to go more than 5 m.p.h. over the speed limit."

Van Pelt also reminded the legislators of the state's uninsured driver law which is almost identical to Georgia's which the U.S. Supreme Court declared unconstitutional.

Only If At Fault

The law provides that an uninsured driver's license can be revoked after an accident regardless of whether he was at fault. The Supreme Court ruled that there must first be a hearing to determine who was at fault, the uninsured driver's license can only be revoked if he was at fault.

"Director of Motor Vehicles John Kissack told me," Van Pelt said, "that such a hearing system could cost the state $1 million. The other alternative is compulsory insurance which is cumbersome and hasn't solved the problem in states which have it."

Van Pelt said he is inclined to believe it will either lower rates or at least slow down the increase. This question, he noted, depends on the particular variation of no fault.

After citing Massachusetts' success in reducing the number of claims by half and lowering rates by 15%, Van Pelt said Nebraska is not in the dire straits Massachusetts was in. "Statistically, we don't have the crying need that Massachusetts had," he said. "We're lucky. The average wait for a trial here is 1-2 years, whereas in Chicago it can be up to 5 years."

Good morning:

No doubt about it. Fall is in the air. You can tell because, as rumor has it, the first NU football game will be roaring on tomorrow. And who needs turning leaves to tell the change of season when you have Bob Devaney and his team? So, get out the red, the game's about to begin.

The days of the week between football games, for there are a few you know, hold some exciting news in the field of the arts.

For instance, towards the end of this month, TAFY (Theatre Arts For Youth) will open its premiere season with a presentation of the classic French children's story, "The Little Prince" by Antoine de Saint Exupery. Directed by Royal Eckert, the play will be taken to four school auditoriums. We hear the cast is still being selected, which means rehearsals will be rigorous before the first show on Sept. 22.

James Bastian, who will remain on board as chairman of the Arts Division at Doane College this semester, is most enthusiastic about the prospects of faculty exchange recitals. Some headway already has been made with exchanges between Doane College and Hastings College. Hopefully the program will be broadened even further, and more schools will be able to avail themselves of the really top-notch talent around. It's a fine idea, Jim.

Just to keep you in touch with our wandering Sheldon Art Gallery director, Norman Geske and his wife, Jane... Fred Wells received a post card yesterday from the couple in Venice where they keep an eye out for falling scaffolding. They report, however, that the city is well-maintained and beautiful.

Now, for your further entertainment:

FINE TIME FOR TRAVEL... and if your trip is a short one, you might consider Seward, which is just a short drive away, and the home of Koenig Art Gallery at Concordia Teachers College. This month, through Sept. 24, a faculty art exhibit offers an impressive variety of mediums. The gallery is open 9 to 5 weekdays, and noon to 5 on Sundays.

THE PICTURE OF ART... Mexican artist Emilio Amaro, best known as a lithographer, is also an expert photographer. On Tuesday, Sept. 14, an exhibition of his photographs taken during the 1930's will open at Sheldon Art Gallery. The exhibit will run through Oct. 10. Also on exhibit now is the Collection of Mark Tobey paintings, and works by Ronald King which are pop style paintings on glass.

THE INSIDE STORY... of Norman Geske, Sheldon Art Gallery, will be the final subject of the Artists in America series on Tuesday Sept. 21 at 8:30 on ETV Channel 12. Those who have visited Sheldon will be interested to see the man behind the scenes, his work and creativity which have led the gallery to achieve national prominence and significance to the art world. The show will be repeated on Friday, Sept. 24 at 10 p.m.

CURTAIN CALL... ELDER ART GALLERY at Nebraska Wesleyan University is exhibiting works by Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Trucksess of Boulder, Colo., through Sept. 19.

It is quite a distance from Thailand to the U.S.A., but Mr. and Mrs. David Q. Kearns (Gaynelle Groth) have been back in the States from Thailand since Aug. 1—the day they arrived in Oakland, Calif. Then there was the matter of doffing the rank of Sp.5 and the donning civilian attire for Mr. Kearns. Immediately upon his discharge from the service Mr. and Mrs. Kearns were on their way to Lincoln and the home of Mrs. Kearns parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Groth. Their stay in Lincoln was only for a day or two, however, because the visitors and Mr. and Mrs. Groth took off for the Groth summer home at Cass lake. It wasn't too long after the foursome arrived at the summer resort than they were joined by another son-in-law and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Groth — Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wilson (Gretchen Groth), who were just back after a four months around-the-world trip. During that trip, incidentally, the travelers visited Mr. and Mrs. Kearns in Thailand.

After a stay of another week in Lincoln Mr. and Mrs. Kearns will go to Los Angeles where they will enter graduate school at UCLA. Mrs. Kearns, a graduate of the University of Michigan, as is Mr. Kearns, will do graduate work in business management while her husband enlarges his scope in political science.

on a tour of the shops

Now that the children are back in school, mothers are finding that they have additional time on their hands. They can use it up by attending some of the activities that somehow get lost in the summer rush. Among these is shopping. In the more leisurely shopping hours, the lady of the house will be pleased to discover some of the newer products that have been put out on the store counters and shelves.

Among the happy surprises you will find, as we did on our shopping tour this week, that cosmetic manufacturers have come out with some new things to help get skin care from summer to winter gracefully; that a new shop has opened for leather goods; and that there are many new appliances to help make work around the house less of a chore.

AT BRANDEIS

We found that the newest look in cosmetics is the natural look. Sheerness in all areas, from base to eye makeup, is emphasized.

A return to nature also is being promoted by a new line of hair care products by Estee Lauder in the Azuree scent. The hair treatment line includes organic treatments built around a unique collection of natural extracts and balanced herbal oils. Included in this new line are: single application natural shampoo, a natural herbal shampoo that needs only one application; natural rinse for normal or dry hair; herbal pack conditioner and nourisher; natural enriched setting spray and natural care hair spray.

Natural Wonder by Revlon, the slightly medicated makeup, has brought to the market the Great Glisser line, which includes glisser lipstick, cheek glisser and clear lip tint or gloss. The cheek glissers are clear in their compacts, but add color on application. The lipsticks glide on with a finger's touch, and add soft, sheer color.

Revlon also has produced an Eyemaker Duo, which is an ingenious combination of Revlon Fabulash at one end, and an eyeliner brush and liner at the other end of the stick.

The Bonnie Bell representative is awaiting a new shipment of Bonnie Bell glosser for the lips and eyes. New products which already have come in are the Bonnie Bell blushing gel and bronzing gel. Both 'gels' are used to achieve the sheer or translucent look in makeup. The blushing gel is used to add color to parts of the face, and the bronzing gel will help ease your skin from a faded tan to its winter complexion, or give year 'round tan appeal. For the eyes you might be interested in Bonnie Bell's eye kit, Julie's Eyes, with everything for lash and brow.

Charles of the Ritz has also added some pomades to its makeup line. Beginning with a base of sunbronzed pomades that come in compacts with both the base and highlighter, you might then want to check into the eye shadow, cheek and blushing pomades.

And to make you feel just right, you will want to discover for yourself the latest scent by Germaine Monteil called "Germaine." This combination of spice and floral will take you beautifully into fall, and the fragrance is lasting.

AT MILLER & PAINE

Working gals and busy housewives will love the newest appliance from Rival — the Crock Pot. It is a slow cooker similar to grandmother's bean pot, but this electrical appliance uses only about five cents worth of electricity during 10 hours of cooking time. Now you can make stews, roasts, chili, vegetables, stewed fruits, puddings and even brown breads without having to look in on your brew every once in a while. The 50-watt cooker is so attractive — it comes in avocado, flame, and wood grain — that it can even be used on the table as a server. The Crock Pot which "cooks all day while the cook's away" comes in two sizes — one and a half quarts and three and a half quarts.

Coffee pots have taken on a new appearance lately. They still have the same shape, but the colors — how interesting — and they will perk up your table at breakfast or any time of the day. West Bend's boutique coffee pots are now appointed in the most attractive colors with flowers, butterflies and other accents. The Corningware pots also have a new look — the floral pattern on the traditional white coffee pot. The pattern has shades of avocado and gold.

If you happen to like your snacks hot, West Bend has just the electrical appliance for you — a Snack Keeper. It comes in the popular shades of avocado, flame, and harvest gold, and promises to keep your snacks and cereals warm and crisp.

Other fairly new appliances we found at Miller and Paine include electric pressure cookers, portable broilers, and the very popular hot trays.

AT TANDY LEATHER

The 'do-it-yourself' craze has struck practically every area of contemporary living — including the clothing and accessory lines.

Leather work and handcraft has become a hobby, especially among the younger set — and the interest will pick up to a greater degree as cooler weather sets in.

All of the necessary materials and supplies for leather crafting are available at Tandy Leather Co., which is just one of the stores affiliated with the national corporation.

The boutique, located just across the street from Hotel Radisson-Cornhusker, supplies kits for making most any leather good — including billfolds, moccasins, handbags, watch bands, belts, and other leather accessories. Some kits feature leather goods worked with a Western influence, and some are more contemporary.

The youngsters are even making garments of leather and suedes, believe it or not. And beautiful articles can be made from the materials available at Tandy's, where you also can find patterns for coats, vests, and pants, and mallets for pounding the seams in place.

Belts for both men and women have taken on a new look this season — and Tandy's has all sorts of belting materials and ready-to-be-worked belts available, as well as the most unusual in buckles.

In addition to the do-it-yourself supplies, we found sheepskin, tigerskin and leopardskin rugs in the boutique — in fact there even is a bright red sheepskin rug that brings the Big Red machine to mind. Another Big Red item we liked was a lovely red suede shoulder bag with a white 'N' applied on the flap.

Keeping in tune with the times, Tandy's has added macrame supplies and Indian beads to its stock — since the shop was opened just three short months ago.

on a tour of the shops

Now that the children are back in school, mothers are finding that they have additional time on their hands. They can use it up by attending some of the activities that somehow get lost in the summer rush. Among these is shopping. In the more leisurely shopping hours, the lady of the house will be pleased to discover some of the newer products that have been put out on the store counters and shelves.

Among the happy surprises you will find, as we did on our shopping tour this week, that cosmetic manufacturers have come out with some new things to help get skin care from summer to winter gracefully; that a new shop has opened for leather goods; and that there are many new appliances to help make work around the house less of a chore.

AT BRANDEIS

We found that the newest look in cosmetics is the natural look. Sheerness in all areas, from base to eye makeup, is emphasized.

A return to nature also is being promoted by a new line of hair care products by Estee Lauder in the Azuree scent. The hair treatment line includes organic treatments built around a unique collection of natural extracts and balanced herbal oils. Included in this new line are: single application natural shampoo, a natural herbal shampoo that needs only one application; natural rinse for normal or dry hair; herbal pack conditioner and nourisher; natural enriched setting spray and natural care hair spray.

Natural Wonder by Revlon, the slightly medicated make-up, has brought to the market the Great Glisser line, which includes glisser lipstick, cheek glisser and clear lip tint or gloss. The cheek glissers are clear in their compacts, but add color on application. The lipsticks glide on with a finger's touch, and add soft, sheer color.

Revlon also has produced an Eyemaker Duo, which is an ingenious combination of Revlon Fabulash at one end, and an eyeliner brush and liner at the other end of the stick.

The Bonnie Bell representative is awaiting a new shipment of Bonnie Bell glosser for the lips and eyes. New products which already have come in are the Bonnie Bell blushing gel and bronzing gel. Both 'gels' are used to achieve the sheer or translucent look in makeup. The blushing gel is used to add color to parts of the face, and the bronzing gel will help ease your skin from a faded tan to its winter complexion, or give year 'round tan appeal. For the eyes you might be interested in Bonnie Bell's eye kit, Julie's Eyes, with everything for lash and brow.

Charles of the Ritz has also added some pomades to its makeup line. Beginning with a base of sunbronzed pomades that come in compacts with both the base and highlighter, you might then want to check into the eye shadow, cheek and blushing pomades.

And to make you feel just right, you will want to discover for yourself the latest scent by Germaine Monteil called "Germaine." This combination of spice and floral will take you beautifully into fall, and the fragrance is lasting.

AT MILLER & PAINE

Working gals and busy housewives will love the newest appliance from Rival — the Crock Pot. It is a slow cooker similar to grandmother's bean pot, but this electrical appliance uses only about five cents worth of electricity during 10 hours of cooking time. Now you can make stews, roasts, chili, vegetables, stewed fruits, puddings and even brown breads without having to look in on your brew every once in a while. The 50-watt cooker is so attractive — it comes in avocado, flame, and wood grain — that it can even be used on the table as a server. The Crock Pot which "cooks all day while the cook's away" comes in two sizes — one and a half quarts and three and a half quarts.

Coffee pots have taken on a new appearance lately. They still have the same shape, but the colors — how interesting — and they will perk up your table at breakfast or any time of the day. West Bend's boutique coffee pots are now appointed in the most attractive colors with flowers, butterflies and other accents. The Corningware pots also have a new look — the floral pattern on the traditional white coffee pot. The pattern has shades of avocado and gold.

If you happen to like your snacks hot, West Bend has just the electrical appliance for you — a Snack Keeper. It comes in the popular shades of avocado, flame, and harvest gold, and promises to keep your snacks and cereals warm and crisp.

Other fairly new appliances we found at Miller and Paine include electric pressure cookers, portable broilers, and the very popular hot trays.

AT TANDY LEATHER

The 'do-it-yourself' craze has struck practically every area of contemporary living — including the clothing and accessory lines.

Leather work and handcraft

has become a hobby, especially among the younger set — and the interest will pick up to a greater degree as cooler weather sets in.

All of the necessary materials and supplies for leather crafting are available at Tandy Leather Co., which is just one of the stores affiliated with the national corporation.

The boutique, located just across the street from Hotel Radisson-Cornhusker, supplies kits for making most any leather good — including billfolds, moccasins, handbags, watch bands, belts, and other leather accessories. Some kits feature leather goods worked with a Western influence, and some are more contemporary.

The youngsters are even making garments of leather and suedes, believe it or not. And beautiful articles can be made from the materials available at Tandy's, where you also can find patterns for coats, vests, and pants, and mallets for pounding the seams in place.

Belts for both men and women have taken on a new look this season — and Tandy's has all sorts of belting materials and ready-to-be-worked belts available, as well as the most unusual in buckles.

In addition to the do-it-yourself supplies, we found sheepskin, tigerskin and leopardskin rugs in the boutique — in fact there even is a bright red sheepskin rug that brings the Big Red machine to mind. Another Big Red item we liked was a lovely red suede shoulder bag with a white 'N' applied on the flap.

Keeping in tune with the times, Tandy's has added macrame supplies and Indian beads to its stock — since the shop was opened just three short months ago.

Bridge: it's a mathematical problem

TEST YOUR PLAY
You are declarer with the West hand at Four Hearts and North leads the queen of spades. You win with the king, cash the queen of hearts, everyone following suit, and play the ace and another spade, ruffing in dummy. After you lead a trump to the ace, what would you do next?

♠ A 6 3 ♠ K 7
♥ A K 10 6 5 4 ♥ Q J 9 8
♦ 3 2 ♦ K J 5
♣ 6 5 ♣ K 8 7 2

This is chiefly a mathematical problem where, basically, you must choose between leading a club to the king or a diamond to the king. (Leading a diamond to the jack is the equivalent, mathematically, of leading one to the king, but for the sake of simplicity let's say that if you lead a diamond instead of a club you plan to go up with the king after North follows low.)

Probably most players would lead a club at trick six on the theory that if the king lost to South's ace they would be better able to gauge the diamond guess later on. They would plan to play the king of diamonds from dummy, rather than the jack, when they eventually led a diamond to dummy. They would reason that with South having the ace of clubs would be less likely to have the ace of diamonds than North.

While there is some merit to this theory, the fact is that leading a club to the king is not nearly as good a play as a diamond to the king. In order to prove this, let's first dismiss those cases where North has the ace of clubs or the A-Q of diamonds, for in all such cases you would automatically make the contract.

There are only three pertinent holdings where your choice of plays can affect the outcome, namely, where North has the ace of diamonds and South the queen; where North has the queen and South the ace; and where South has the A-Q (as well as the ace of clubs).

Note that if you play a club to the king, you will be successful only when North has the diamond ace. But if you start by playing a diamond to the king, you will succeed not only when North has the ace, but also when South has both missing diamond honors. The reason you are successful when South has A-Q-A is that he is endplayed and cannot avoid handing you a trick when he wins the king of diamonds with the ace.

Abby: you're lucky to be rid of him

DEAR ABBY: I am 20 and Mickey is 21. We've been going steady for a year and I guess you could say I'm "hooked" on him. I had long hair, and told Mickey I wanted to cut it. He said if I cut my hair he didn't want to see me again. Well, I forgot about cutting my hair altho I really wanted to.

He has stood me up on lots of dates and when I ask him what happened, he says he forgot. The last time he did that I got mad and cut my hair, and when he saw me he slapped my face and said we were thru.

I can't make my hair grow back overnight, but I would like to get Mickey back. What advice can you give me?

MISSING MICK

DEAR MISSING: "Mick" sounds like a real loser to me, and you're lucky to be rid of him. "Out of sight, out of mind," and you're out of yours if you try to get him back.

DEAR ABBY: Your advice to the mother who was disappointed at finding birth control pills in the purses of her daughters, ages 19 and 21, was the worst I've read yet.

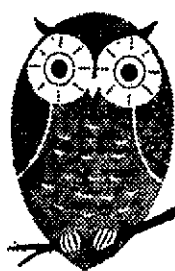

You are doing these girls a terrible injustice by assuming that because they take birth control pills they have already made their decision to engage in premarital sex.

Birth control pills are prescribed for many reasons: to relieve cramps, regulate the menstrual cycle and to clear up acne. Ask any doctor!

DISAPPOINTED IN YOU
DEAR DISAPPOINTED: I am aware of the many uses for birth control pills, but it is highly unlikely that these sisters, living at home would have "medical problems" of which their mother was not aware. It's possible, of course, but not probable.

Municipal Court Planning To Initiate New Pre-Trial Release Procedure

A new pre-trial release procedure, which is expected to significantly reduce the number of bail bonds required by the Municipal Court, will be initiated next week, Presiding Judge Thomas J. McManus said Thursday.

The new program will utilize the court's probation office to make background checks on whether a person charged with an offense should have a bail bond set to assure his court appearance on a designated date.

McManus said the Municipal Court has been "liberal" in releasing persons on their own recognizance but the judges have largely had to make this determination on their own personal knowledge of the defendant and court records.

Questionnaire Required

Now, McManus said, when a person is arraigned in court and pleads innocent, the judge will instruct him to step across the hall to the probation office where he will be interviewed and a background questionnaire completed.

If the investigation — which will take about 15 minutes — indicates a bail bond should be imposed, the judge will set an appropriate amount.

If no bond is indicated by the investigation, the defendant will be released on his own personal recognizance, according to McManus.

'Responsible Citizens'

Chief Probation Officer Bob

Keller said more than half of the persons appearing on drunk driving and other misdemeanor offenses are "responsible citizens."

"There is no question of their reappearing in court for trial, and the requiring of bail bond is a stigma," he said.

Keller said his office will utilize two students under the Nebraska Opportunity Volunteers in Action (NOVA) program, as well as regular personnel to make the pre-trial release checks.

Federally-Funded Program

NOVA is a federally-funded program employing student volunteer services. The student receives $2,500 for their 12-month involvement in the program along with 24 academic credit hours for University of Nebraska work.

McManus said the new procedure will mostly affect persons not known by the court whose background will indicate they are responsible enough to be released without bond.

Keller indicated the new procedure is in line with recommendations of the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice.

'Ineffective Device'

"By and large," the commission said in a 1967 report, "money bail is an unfair and ineffective device. Its glaring weakness is that it discriminates against poor defendants, thus running directly counter to the law's avowed purpose of treating all defendants equally."

The new system conceivably will reduce the amount of bail bond business, but McManus said this isn't a concern for the court.

"We aren't here to keep bondsmen in business," he said. "We are concerned with the administration of justice as equitably as possible."

Unused Safety Belt Causes Injuries To Fireman's Legs

Forgetting to buckle your seat belt is like playing with matches — or so a Lincoln fireman learned Thursday.

Fire Lt. Clyde L. Broadston, commander of Engine 3, fell from the rig's cab as it rounded a corner at 16th and South enroute to a fire alarm at Merle Beattie school.

Fire Chief Dallas Johnson said Broadston managed to hang onto the door as he tumbled from the cab and suffered only leg bruises.

Apparently the latch of the cab door was accidentally tripped, Johnson said, and the engine commander's seat belt wasn't fastened.

"His pride probably hurts worse," said the fire chief of the 43-year-old lieutenant who escaped serious injury.

State Can Invest In Student Loan Programs—Meyer

Attorney General Clarence A. H. Meyer issued an opinion Thursday giving the nod to the State Investment Council's participation in the federal student loan program.

Investment officer Fred Kuethe said he asked for the opinion to determine whether the 1971 law authorizing the state's participation was legal.

Acknowledging that it was constitutional, Meyer noted that the Investment Council must register with the federal government as a lender before it can underwrite federally guaranteed loans.

However, the attorney general is still in the investment picture since he must approve specific contracts for the purchase of the loans and the servicing.

The next meeting of the council is scheduled for Sept. 22 at which time the council will decide on final approval for the program.

Housing Authority Will Sell Some Arnold Heights Homes

The Housing Authority plans to start selling some of the homes at the Arnold Heights housing area, Chairman Kenneth King said Thursday at the group's monthly session.

Commissioners stressed that those homes under the rent subsidy program at Arnold Heights will not be sold and that occupants there will have the first opportunity to purchase their homes.

A subcommittee consisting of commissioners Al Glandt and

J. Phillip Mahoney was appointed to work out the mechanics for deciding which homes to be sold, how many to sell at a time and how the homes will be sold.

No 'Wholesale Selling'
Commissioner Bob Barlow and there would not be any "wholesale selling of homes."

Richard Burke, executive director of the housing authority, said that it would be good to get a response from those interested in purchasing their homes. All homes at Arnold Heights are rented to occupants by the Housing Authority.

The commissioners also adopted without any fanfare a grievance procedure for housing authority tenants. The procedure would not apply to those evicted for non-payment of rent.

Herb Hamilton, leased housing director, reported to commissioners that there has been a drastic increase in the number not paying their rents.

Hamilton said a policy has been set to take a "harder line approach" and turn over to the attorneys for eviction those who are delinquent 30 days. He added that several contacts would be made with the tenant during the 30-day period.

$8,000 Loss Reported
Burke said last year the housing authority suffered an $8,000 loss in uncollected rents.

"This is not a no-rent but a low-rent program," he said, adding that late payments also make administering the program difficult.

Hamilton said that more than 50% of those delinquent on rents are low income families. Students make up less than 2% of the total.

He also reported that the practice of property owners taking their properties out of the rent subsidy program is continuing and the number of units in the program is now at 1,098 as compared to 1,116 last month. The problem has been the limit the housing authority can pay for rents as authorized by HUD.

Statistics Gathered
Hamilton said he is gathering statistics to justify to HUD allowing an increase in the limits to meet increased costs incurred by property owners on their housing units.

John Luebs, executive director of the Lancaster Office of Mental Retardation (LOMR), appeared before the commissioners to request lower rent prices for three units his group leases.

Luebs said LOMR faces a budgetary dilemma to meet all the needs for the mentally retarded and added a fourth unit at Arnold Heights is also needed to serve as an educational service unit.

Commissioners replied they are aware of the need and explore what could be done to assist LOMR.

New Overnight Mail Delivery Plans Reported

Lincoln Postmaster Kenneth B. Lewis Thursday evening identified nine postal distribution centers and their subsidiary offices which are to receive overnight delivery of first class mail originating in the Lincoln area.

The centers include Lincoln, Omaha, Council Bluffs, Iowa; Grand Island, Hastings, Columbus, Shenandoah, Iowa and Topeka and Concordia, Kan.

Lewis said that for the mail to receive next-day delivery it must have a zip code and be mailed by 5 p.m.

Seven of the areas included in overnight service program and their zip codes include:

Omaha, zip codes 680 and 681, the 680 zip codes standing for associate offices served by the Omaha Sectional Center.

Ekvall Named To Housing Post

Housing Administrator Carl Kopines Thursday announced the appointment of Lincoln Star reporter Tom Ekvall to the new position of research and development programmer.

Ekvall, 27, has been City Hall reporter for The Star for more than two years. He is tentatively scheduled to begin with the city Sept. 27.

Kopines said Ekvall will do detailed research and surveys of housing and neighborhood conditions, prepare reports and develop and evaluate programs designed to improve and maintain desirable neighborhood environments. His salary will be $9,640 per year.

Connally Criticizes Uncooperative Corporation

Washington (UPI) — Three corporations have agreed to roll back announced dividend increases in keeping with President Nixon's wage-price freeze but a fourth — Florida Telephone Corp. of Ocala, Fla. — has refused, Treasury Secretary John B. Connally announced Thursday.

Speaking as head of the Cost of Living Council, Connally said it was "disheartening to experience this demonstration of recalcitrance, particularly from a public utility."

Connally said the Briggs and Stratton Corp., Wauwatosa, Wis.; Martin Yale Industries,

Inc., Chicago, and Sela Corp. of America, Dresher, Pa., had agreed to reduce their next quarterly dividends to offset increases declared during the freeze which began Aug. 15.

The council said an investigation showed that two other firms, National Propane Corp., New Hyde Park, N.Y., and Volume Shoe Corp., Topeka, Kan., had not actually violated the council's policy on dividends.

Executives of the six corporations were called to Washington Tuesday to explain their apparent violation of the voluntary dividend freeze.

Connally said, "The apparent reluctance of the Florida Telephone Corp. to support the President's request is in sharp contrast to the widespread cooperation which we have received from all of the people."

Florida Telephone President Max Wettstein said his company had paid 13 cent-per-share dividends for the first three quarters of 1971 and had announced a one-cent increase in the fourth quarter dividend, payable Dec. 20. The freeze expires Nov. 13.

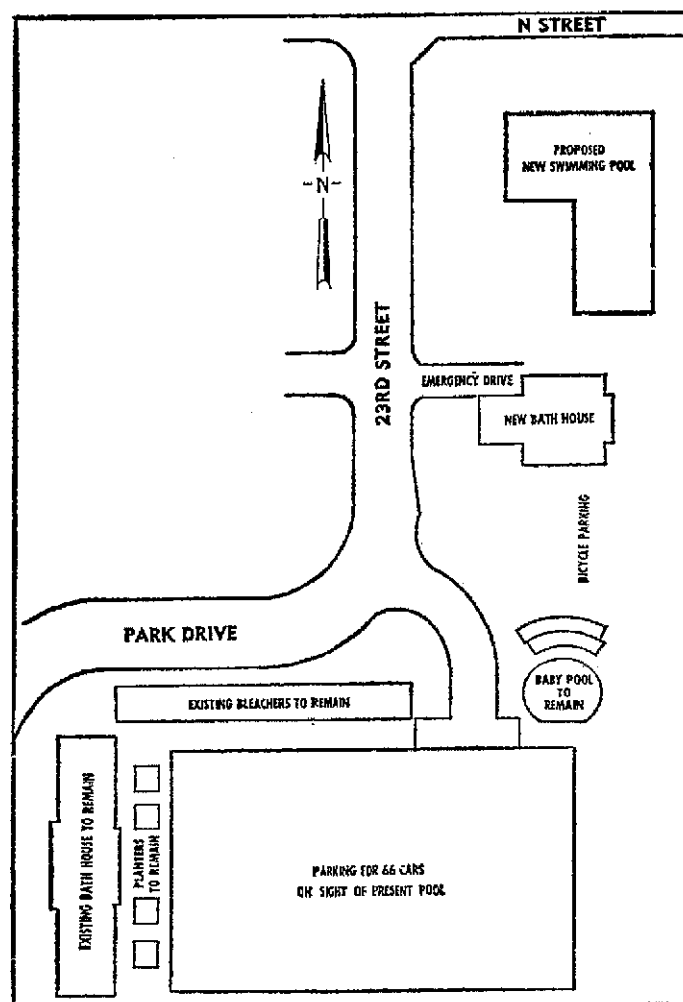

A council spokesman said Florida Telephone's action violated Nixon's appeal for a voluntary curb on dividend payments because announcing a dividend increase can influence the value of a company's stock.

Wettstein said utilities in the highly competitive Florida market were forced to go to the public with a stock offering every year.

The council has ruled that the significant date for purposes of the freeze is when a "transaction" takes place. "In effect, the date of the transaction of a dividend is the date it is declared, not the date it is paid," the spokesman said.

DESIGN PLAN IS APPROVED

The Parks and Recreation Board has approved a new design plan for Muny Swimming Pool. The present pool would become a parking lot for 66 vehicles. (Story On Page 1.)

Poverty Bill Includes Child Care Program

Washington (UPI) — The Senate Thursday approved $5.9 billion in legislation extending existing antipoverty programs and providing new approaches to legal aid, child development and job training for the nation's 47.5 million poor and "near poor."

The measure, which now goes to the House, was approved on a 49-12 vote after senators rejected a series of amendments to tailor it more to the Republican administration's liking.

Eugene, Ore. — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine was 45 minutes late arriving in Eugene, Ore., Thursday. The problem was that his aircraft, borrowed from Frank Sinatra, landed in Portland.

The jet took off for a 25-minute flight to Eugene in the center of the state and the senator's staff explained that the pilot had been given a schedule two weeks ago and it had been changed subsequently. "Unfortunately, we forgot to tell the pilot," said the aide.

Connally Criticizes Uncooperative Corporation

Washington (UPI) — Three corporations have agreed to roll back announced dividend increases in keeping with President Nixon's wage-price freeze but a fourth — Florida Telephone Corp. of Ocala, Fla. — has refused, Treasury Secretary John B. Connally announced Thursday.

Speaking as head of the Cost of Living Council, Connally said it was a "disheartening to experience this demonstration of recalcitrance, particularly from a public utility."

Connally said the Briggs and Stratton Corp., Wauwatosa, Wis.; Martin Yale Industries,

Inc., Chicago, and Selas Corp. of America, Dresher, Pa., had agreed to reduce their next quarterly dividends to offset increases declared during the freeze which began Aug. 15.

The council said an investigation showed that two other firms, National Propane Corp., New Hyde Park, N.Y., and Volume Shoe Corp., Topeka, Kan., had not actually violated the council's policy on dividends.

Executives of the six corporations were called to Washington Tuesday to explain their apparent violation of the voluntary dividend freeze.

Connally said, "The apparent reluctance of the Florida Telephone Corp. to support the President's request is in sharp contrast to the widespread cooperation which we have received from all of the people."

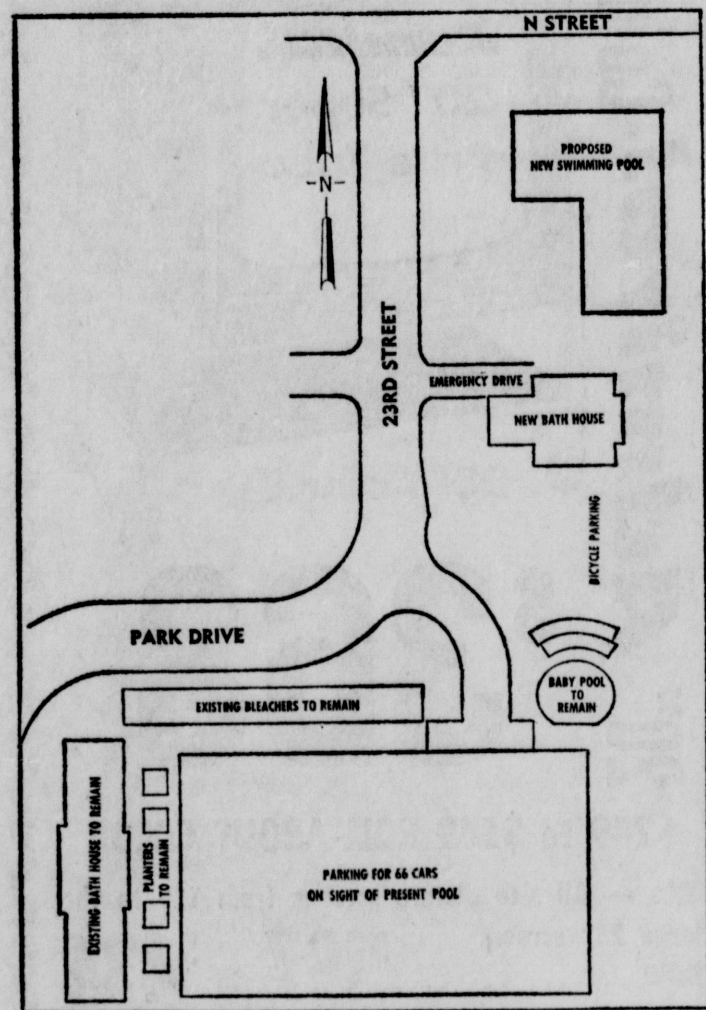

Florida Telephone President Max Wettstein said his company had paid 13 cent-per-share dividends for the first three quarters of 1971 and had announced a one-cent increase in the fourth quarter dividend, payable Dec. 20. The freeze expires Nov. 13.

A council spokesman said Florida Telephone's action

violated Nixon's appeal for a voluntary curb on dividend payments because announcing a dividend increase can influence the value of a company's stock.

Wettstein said utilities in the highly competitive Florida market were forced to go to the public with a stock offering every year.

The council has ruled that the significant date for purposes of the freeze is when a "transaction" takes place. "In effect, the date of the transaction of a dividend is the date it is declared, not the date it is paid," the spokesman said.

DESIGN PLAN IS APPROVED

The Parks and Recreation Board has approved a new design plan for Muny Swimming Pool. The new pool, an L-shaped affair, would be 100 feet long and 75 feet wide at the longest points, and 12 feet deep underneath the elevated platform. The present pool would become a parking lot for 66 vehicles. (Story On Page 1.)

Poverty Bill Includes Child Care Program

Washington (UPI) — The Senate Thursday approved $5.9 billion in legislation extending existing antipoverty programs and providing new approaches to legal aid, child development and job training for the nation's 47.5 million poor and "near poor."

The measure, which now goes to the House, was approved on a 49-12 vote after senators rejected a series of amendments to tailor it more to the Republican administration's liking.

Eugene, Ore. — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine was 45 minutes late arriving in Eugene, Ore., Thursday. The problem was that his aircraft, borrowed from Frank Sinatra, landed in Portland.

"There's nobody here to meet us," said the pilot of the sleek jet. Someone then noticed that the sign at the airport said Portland International Airport.

The jet took off for a 25-minute flight to Eugene in the center of the state and the senator's staff explained that the pilot had been given a schedule two weeks ago and it had been changed subsequently. "Unfortunately, we forgot to tell the pilot," said the aide.

Parts Worth $800,000 Stolen

Bangkok (UPI) — A member of the Thai Parliament said Thursday that $800,000 worth of aircraft parts belonging to the U.S. Air Force have been stolen from Korat Air Base since the beginning of 1970.

Rep. Vim Vimolmarn said the thefts were masterminded by an alien from Hong Kong who was assisted by Thai officials. A U.S. Embassy spokesman said "we are checking the authenticity of the report."

Lt. Paul Magers Now Listed Dead

Department Of Education Seeking Marland's Help

Nebraska's Department of Education has asked the help of U.S. Education Commissioner Sidney P. Marland in "reviewing the administrative procedures" in Nebraska for distributing Title I funds under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

Nebraska's procedures for utilizing these funds for the benefit of educationally handicapped children have come under fire from Catholic educators and church leaders in the state.

State Education Commissioner Cecil Stanley said the request to Marland for review help was made in view of the challenges by parochial school leaders.

Meanwhile, three diocesan school superintendents — James D. Dawson of Lincoln, Thomas F. O'Brien of Omaha and Paul J. Button of Grand Island — disclosed Thursday they have petitioned State Education Department officials to confer with Catholic education officials in communities with Catholic schools before approving Title I programs in those communities. Sixty-eight communities were identified as being in this category.

Pardon Board Commutes Life Sentence Of Keeshan

The State Pardon Board Thursday commuted the life sentence of a 30-year-old Albion man, convicted on two counts of second degree murder, to a prison term of 25-45 years.

Kermit Keeshan was granted the commutation on the recommendation of the State Parole Board.

John Greenholtz of the parole unit said Keeshan would not be eligible for parole immediately, but the commutation would allow him to participate in pre-release educational programs.

Keeshan was given the life sentence by the Boone County District Court in 1958.

Given a full pardon was Clarence Kidd, 56, who now lives in California. He was convicted by the Thayer County District Court in 1935 for statutory rape, and was sentenced to three years in the state prison.

Deferred was a request for a full pardon from another California man, Arthur L.

Andersen, 28. He was not present for the board hearing and the matter was postponed.

He has requested a full pardon from a 1960 Dodge County conviction for no account checks and violation of a bench parole.

Sen. DeCamp Reveals Shift To Demo Party

State Sen. John DeCamp of Neligh said Thursday he has become the second of Nebraska's 49 legislators to switch from the Republican to Democratic parties this summer.

DeCamp revealed he had changed his registration several days ago.

Earlier, Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff announced he was changing parties to seek the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate next year.

FORECAST

★ By SIDNEY OMARR ★

Forecast For Friday

Capricorn appears to grow younger as years progress. These persons often succeed late in life; some seem to have discovered proverbial fountain of youth. The Capricorn woman adds to her charm as she attains maturity. The Capricorn man realizes many of his hopes, ambitions as he advances in age.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Don't act out of desperation; means if you are not sure do nothing. Accent on mixups connected with neighbors, relatives, short journeys. Key is to gather additional information. Evaluate.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Money affairs may appear to have lead feet. Means transactions, deals, agreements are slow, delayed, postponed or canceled. Utilize contingency plans; put alternative methods to test. Don't hang on to lost cause.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Don't take others for granted, including marriage or business partner. Keep weather eye on public relations. Means be sure to protect and enhance image. Those with opposing views apt to be very vocal.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Work projects subject to radical change. Gemini, Virgo individuals are involved. Be flexible; stress versatility. Give free rein to intellectual curiosity. You set answers by asking questions. Do so.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Be diplomatic in making requests. Hopes, wishes are emphasized. But you attain them through gentle approach. Forcing methods now will not suffice. Taurus, Libra persons play key roles. Harmonize domestic relationships.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Business duties may conflict with home responsibilities. Pace yourself. Avoid making foolish commitments. Some who promise advancement do so without authority. Pisces figures prominently.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Hold off on long-range commitments. Journey should be delayed, if practical. Current responsibilities need attention. Distant opportunities should not be permitted to obscure current view.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Finish assignments. Study Taurus message. Don't permit freedom to get you into financial dilemma. Listen sympathetically, but take care of yourself.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): See in light of reality. Romantic notions are fine — if you are not led up the garden path. Message should become increasingly clear. Leo is apt to be involved. Do some personal investigating.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): One who confides problem merely is asking rhetorical questions. Avoid becoming too intricately involved. Check all sides of controversy, but strive to remain detached. Keep recent health resolutions.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Activities expand; social opportunities are on upswing. Lunar emphasis is on how you cope with emotions. Member of opposite sex expresses needs. Make conciliatory gesture. Dispel humor.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Recent move, change proves beneficial. Now you can evaluate ambitions, goals. Be aware of details, clauses. Check apparent minor points. Take time to be thorough. One at top is close observer.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you will find that stance of greater independence now pays dividends. Learning advice of others doesn't wear well; take initiative. You are an original, creative individual. You usually are confident.

Members of the opposite sex find you fascinating. You love to entertain — you are, in fact, a better host than a guest. New stars in new directions are featured. Don't permit past errors to block current progress.

The display consists of paintings by some of the most outstanding artists in both transparent and opaque watercolor and includes work by John Marin, Andrew Wyeth, Maurice Prendergast, Lyonel Feininger and a dozen others.

A grant from the Nebraska Arts Council has made it possible for "Watercolors" to be shown in six public libraries across the state as part of this year's extension services program of the Sheldon Memorial Art Gallery, University of Nebraska-Lincoln. Also cooperating in this service are the Nebraska State Library Commission and the Nebraska Art Association.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Hold off on long-range commitments. Journey should be delayed, if practical. Current responsibilities need attention. Distant opportunities should not be permitted to obscure current view.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Finish rather than begin; complete projects, assignments. Study Taurus message. Don't permit free-loader to get you into financial dilemma. Listen sympathetically, but take care of yourself.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): See in light of reality. Romantic notions are fine if you are not led up the garden path. Message should become increasingly clear. Leo is apt to be involved. Do some personal investigating.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): One who confides problem merely is asking rhetorical questions. Avoid becoming ineffectually involved. See all sides of controversy, but strive to remain detached. Keep recent health resolutions.

NU Collection

Now In Hastings

A traveling exhibition of 16 watercolors selected from the collections of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Art Galleries is now on exhibition in the Hastings Public Library. The exhibition continues through Sept. 24.

The display consists of paintings by some of the most outstanding artists in both transparent and opaque watercolor and includes work by John Marin, Andrew Wyeth, Maurice Prendergast, Lyonel Feininger and a dozen others.

A grant from the Nebraska Arts Council has made it possible for "Watercolors" to be shown in six public libraries across the state as part of this year's extension services program of the Sheldon Memorial Art Gallery, University of Nebraska-Lincoln. Also cooperating in this service are the Nebraska State Library Commission and the Nebraska Art Association.

Fired Roads Dept. Engineer Files Suit In Court

Douglas Marti, attorney for dismissed Roads Department engineer Richard Kiernan, filed suit Thursday with the State Court of Industrial Relations.

The court could hear the case within a week, Marti said, if the Department's attorney, Norm Krivosha, makes a voluntary appearance.

However, Marti said Krivosha had indicated to him that he might challenge the Court of Industrial Relations' right to jurisdiction.

Kiernan's employment was "terminated" Wednesday by State Engineer Thomas A. Doyle for remarks concerning Doyle's qualifications for the appointed post made Aug. 28 at a meeting of the Professional Engineers in Government.

The brief alleges that Doyle's action abridged Kiernan's "freedom of speech as guaranteed to him by Article I of the Constitution."

The action, according to the brief, was in retaliation for Kiernan's activity with the Roads Department Employee Association and "was an attempt to harass the plaintiff employee organization."

The move "was designed to complicate and intimidate its future efforts to organize the employees . . . and obtain recognition as their exclusive bargaining agent."

The brief asks that Doyle's action be reversed, that Kiernan be reinstated without any loss of pay and that the court issue "such other orders as are necessary to protect the members of the plaintiff association from further threat and harassment."

Earlier Thursday Gov. J. James Exon before leaving for the Governors' Conference in Puerto Rico, gave Doyle his complete support in Kiernan's firing.

"I have been advised by Doyle from the beginning of this episode and thoroughly support his action," the Governor said.

State NFO Forced To Punt In Gridiron Misunderstanding

Ray Ratliff, state secretary of the National Farmers Organization (NFO) has some $1,500 in checks to return to the NFO members who had hoped to attend the Nebraska-Oregon football game but will be disappointed.

The state farm organization is holding its state convention in Lincoln Friday and many of the farmers attending had arranged with neighbors to do chores so they could take in the game Saturday.

Ratliff displayed a list of advantages prepared by the organization's convention committee during talks with Chamber of Commerce officials and in longhand it plainly lists "football tickets 500."

"This list wouldn't stand up in court but we surely were under the impression the tickets were available," said Ratliff.

Walt Yetter, a staff man on the Chamber Conventions Committee said: "I am very sorry about the misunderstanding that has developed. At no time did I promise the NFO football tickets. We did promise to try to get some but even Bob Devaney couldn't get 500 tickets."

Ratliff suggested the university take advantage of the demand for tickets by raising the prices to funnel money into the school instead of the pockets of scalpers.

"Those professors who teach the law of supply and demand had ought to follow their own advice, they have the hottest item in town," said Ratliff.

Women Voters Begin Discussing Correction Needs

The Lincoln League of Women Voters Thursday commenced the discussion phase of its study on the need for a system of corrections in Lancaster County.

The 69-page study report covered the current correctional processes for juvenile and adult offenders now available in the county and Lincoln.

A League spokesman said the study report itself makes no recommendations.

Recommendations and a plan of action will be developed later this month by the League's general membership, the spokesman said.

Thursday's general meeting was devoted to discussion groups on the study report out of which a "consensus of (League) membership with specific recommendations" will evolve later this month.

Off-Track Betting May Be Asked

Annapolis, Md. (UPI) — Gov. Marvin Mandel said Thursday he may ask the 1972 Legislature to approve off-track betting in Maryland similar to one now in use in Victoria, Australia.

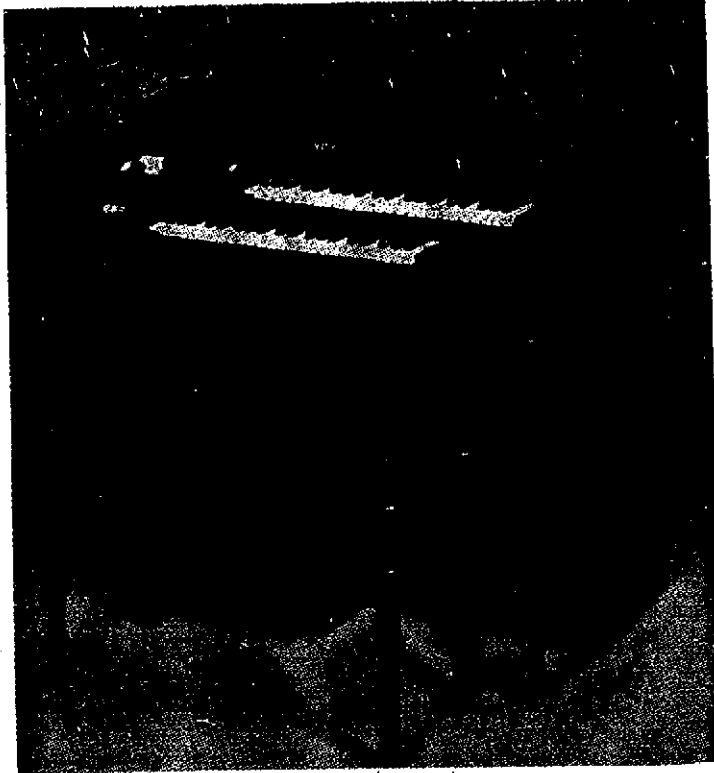

Mandel said he has talked with officials from Victoria about their betting system under which the state receives a 5% cut off the top and does not act as a bookmaker.

Thomsen Music Announces Kimball's Amazing New Organ The Entertainer

— makes the beginner sound like an accomplished musician!

Just four buttons represent a revolutionary advance in organ engineering — and only Kimball has it! Now, for the first time, you can play a simple one-finger melody and be "filled in" automatically, by (1) a rhythm beat, (2) a rich, chord accompaniment and (3) an alternating bass pedal accompaniment — all at the same time! What a thrill for the beginner to create the "big-band" sound — or the "combo" sound — right from the start!

"The Entertainer" is a world of fun — both for the beginner and for the more advanced musicians. But it is also an important teaching aid that puts real joy in learning music, and in capturing all the magnificent orchestral sounds and effects that are built into your new SWINGER 800.

The 69-page study report covered the current correctional processes for juvenile and adult offenders now available in the county and Lincoln.

A League spokesman said the study report itself makes no recommendations.

Recommendations and a plan of action will be developed later this month by the League's general membership, the spokesman said.

Thursday's general meeting was devoted to discussion groups on the study report out of which a "consensus of (League) membership with specific recommendations" will evolve later this month.

Off-Track Betting May Be Asked

Annapolis, Md. (UPI) — Gov. Marvin Mandel said Thursday he may ask the 1972 Legislature to approve off-track betting in Maryland similar to one now in use in Victoria, Australia.

Mandel said he has talked with officials from Victoria about their betting system under which the state receives a 5% cut off the top and does not act as a bookmaker.

12 Of Top 20 Begin Football Play This Weekend

... TWO OPENING CONTESTS PIT RANKING TEAMS AGAINST EACH OTHER

Whatever Happened To SoDak State?

Former Nebraska and Pittsburgh Steeler football player Bob Hohn had just watched a Husker workout when talk turned to this week's opener with Oregon.

"Playing Oregon in the first game is a little different than when I was here," he allowed, "I remember we used to open with South Dakota and South Dakota State."

Nebraska defensive line coach Monte Kiffin had spent a day watching the Ducks' quarterback Dan Fouts and tailback Bobby Moore covet on the motion picture screen.

"Wake Forest would sure look good to us right now," he exclaimed, referring to the 1970 opening foe that was a little less highly regarded than is the Saturday opponent.

When the NCAA gave the go-ahead a year ago to the playing of an 11th game, it was assumed in most quarters that coaches and athletic directors would go out and get an opponent, who could bring a few fans to the stadium, but who wouldn't be a threat to the won-lost record.

Hardly anyone seems to have followed that theory, judging by this week's opening lineup that shows such classic battles shaping up as Nebraska-Oregon, Southern Cal-Alabama, Missouri-Stanford, Michigan-Northwestern and Colorado-LSU.

In some cases you might figure the athletic director did not consult the football coach, but in many cases the athletic director is the football coach.

Starting the weekly guessing game, here goes:

The Big Eight

NEBRASKA 27, Oregon 20 . . . The Huskers will get a chance to see how good their defense really is. If they hold the Ducks to less than 20, it will be good.

STANFORD 14, Missouri 10 . . . the Missouri defense is good enough to stop the Tigers from being embarrassed this season.

LSU 17, Colorado 7 . . . Hardly anyone ever wins a game at Baton Rouge except LSU.

OKLAHOMA STATE 21, Mississippi State 10 . . . The Cowboys finally get to open at home and they might like the feeling.

KANSAS STATE 21, Utah State 14 . . . A lot of questions about the Wildcats could be answered.

KANSAS 35, Washington State 20 . . . so what if you can't stop anybody, the Jayhawks can outscore a lot of 'em.

The Top Ten

MICHIGAN 21, Northwestern 14 . . . This could decide the Big Ten title.

SOUTHERN CAL 35, Alabama 21 . . . The Crimson Tide might be on the way back, but they haven't come far enough to beat the Trojans.

ARKANSAS 28, California 14 . . . One of the best in the Southwest ought to be able to beat one of the weakest in the Pacific-8.

BOSTON COLLEGE over West Virginia.

The South

WILLIAM & MARY over the Citadel . . . CLEMSON over Kentucky . . . TOLEDO over East Carolina . . . FLORIDA over Duke . . . GEORGIA over Oregon State . . . MARYLAND over Villanova . . . MEMPHIS STATE over West Texas State . . . MISSISSIPPI over Long Beach State . . . NORTH CAROLINA STATE over Kent State . . . NORTH CAROLINA over Richmond . . . GEORGIA TECH over South Carolina . . . FLORIDA STATE over Southern Mississippi . . . TEXAS TECH over Tulane . . . VANDERBILT over UT-Chattanooga . . . VIRGINIA over Navy . . . WAKE FOREST over Davidson.

The Midwest

CINCINNATI over Dayton . . . MICHIGAN STATE over Illinois . . . MINNESOTA over Indiana . . . OHIO STATE over Iowa . . . WISCONSIN over Northern Illinois.

The Southwest

NORTH TEXAS STATE over Brigham Young . . . HOUSTON over Rice . . . TEXAS A & M over Wichita State . . . TEXAS-EL PASO over Texas-Arlington.

The Far West

IDAHO over Boise State . . . NEW MEXICO STATE over Drake . . . MIAMI, OHIO over Pacific . . . UCLA over Pittsburgh . . . WASHINGTON over UC-Santa Barbara . . . WYOMING over South Dakota.

Memorial Stadium Will Be Raffled Off

Omaha (UPI) — The University of Nebraska football stadium will be raffled off next month.

The stadium will be "given away" for one day only as a fund raising effort for the construction of the New Camp Easter Seal, the Nebraska Easter Seal Society's camp for handicapped children, according to Robert Kerrey, development director for the society.

The $750,000 facility is being constructed near Agnew in Seward county.

Kerrey said 51,000 raffle tickets are being sold throughout the state and that 22 high school bands have taken on the project so far. He expects at least 50 to participate before the raffle is completed.

Among those giving the project support is Bob Devaney, University of Nebraska athletic director and football coach.

"It is my sincere hope that all the people of the state will support this effort to free handicapped Nebraskans and will demonstrate their support by participating in the raffling of NU's Memorial Stadium," he said.

The winning stub will be drawn at the society office Oct. 29. The winner will receive two free passes to the Nebraska-Colorado game in Lincoln Oct. 30 and will "act as owner" of the stadium at the game.

The winner will also receive a football autographed by the NU team and coaches and a "deed" to his property.

Champion Finnegan Whallops American

London (AP) — Chris Finnegan, British and Commonwealth light heavyweight boxing champion, scored a technical knockout over Bob Benoit of Oakham, Mass., at the Anglo-American Sporting Club Thursday night.

Referee Billy White stopped the contest in the eighth round of a scheduled 10-rounder.

By Associated Press

Twelve of the Top Twenty teams in The Associated Press preseason poll will be in action this weekend as college football's 102nd season gets under way.

Two contests pair ranking teams and the losers will have a difficult time trying to remain among the elite.

The weekend starts with two Friday night games, headlined by the meeting of fifth-ranked Southern California and No. 16 Alabama in the Los Angeles Coliseum. The other contest matches Brigham Young and North Texas State in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas. This was supposed to have opened the new Texas Stadium in Irving, a Dallas suburb, but had to be switched to the Cotton Bowl when the new field wasn't quite ready.

Saturday's pairing of ranking teams sends fourth-rated Michigan against No. 20 Northwestern in a key Big Ten opener at Evanston, Ill.

Arkansas in a night game at Little Rock, No. 9 Louisiana State entertains Colorado under the lights, Iowa visits 11th-ranked Ohio State, Pitt has a night contest on the West Coast with No. 15 UCLA, another after-dark pairing finds Georgia Tech, ranked 17th, at South Carolina, Oregon State is at No. 18 Georgia and Stanford's Rose Bowl kings, ranked 19th, play at Missouri.

Other interesting matchups are Boston College at West Virginia, Duke-Florida at Tampa night, Texas Tech at Tulane night, Illinois at Michigan State, Indiana at Minnesota, Mississippi State at Oklahoma State and Houston at Rice night.

Toledo, owner of the nation's longest winning streak at 23 games, visits East Carolina and Wichita State, which came back from a tragic plane crash early last season, is at Texas A&M. Both are night games.

ABC-TV kicks off its 1971 series of 36 games by airing nationally the Grambling-Morgan State contest at Yankee Stadium in New York 5:30 p.m., CDT. Both teams are among the better of the predominantly black ones and it marks the first time two College Division schools have been on national network television.

ASHE, OKKER, KODES WIN

Sluggish Graebner Set Down By Old Adversary

... SPAIN'S ORANTES CRUSHED

Forest Hills, N.Y. (AP) — America's confident Arthur Ashe Jr., and a pair of flashy, lightning-quick Europeans, Tom Okker of The Netherlands and Jan Kodes of Czechoslovakia, shot their way into the men's semifinals Thursday in the U.S. Open Tennis Championship.

The United States is assured of another spot when second-seeded Stan Smith of Pasadena, Calif., and Marty Riessen, the greatly improved contract pro from Evanston, Ill., meet in a delayed quarter-final Friday.

Both the men's and women's finals are scheduled Sunday, with $20,000 going to the male winner and $8,600 to the lady champion.

Ashe, his high-bounding service and put-away volley in top form, crushed Manuel Orantes of Spain, 6-1, 6-2, 7-6.

Okker, seeded No. 4, runner-up to Ashe in the inaugural Open here in 1968, had too much get-up-and-go for the sluggish, seventh-seeded Clark Graebner of New York, winning 6-2, 6-3, 6-4.

Graebner's service one of the most potent in tennis, failed him. He served two double-faults in the sixth game and two more in the eighth game of the first set, losing both services and double-faulted at game point in the eighth game of the second, losing his service at love.

"I just couldn't find the range," Graebner said disconsolately afterward. "It wasn't my day."

He never has beaten Okker, a 27-year-old veteran of the pro tour, in five meetings covering a period of about five years.

Okker was too quick, covering the court like a jack-rabbit and putting away flicking volleys. Graebner's big game was a skeleton of that which carried him through the Pennsylvania and Eastern Grass Courts Championships in recent weeks.

Okker on Saturday will go against the winner of the Smith-Riessen match while Ashe takes his bullet serves against Kodes, the tournament giant-killer who continued his surprising sweep by stunning Frank Froehling III of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., 6-0, 7-6, 6-3.

"I never had it," the 6-foot-5 Froehling, runner-up here in 1963 and returning to bigtime tennis after a five-year layoff, lamented, "I was flat, but Kodes was very sharp."

"I think Ashe will beat him," Kodes more or less agreed.

"He should beat me," the 25-year-old Czech said. "Arthur is better on grass. He is very smart. He is a pro. He has won this championship before. He won't be scared or nervous."

Rams Slip 49ers

Los Angeles (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams defeated the San Francisco 49ers, 23-20, Thursday night in an NFL exhibition game.

"I only hope I can keep the score close, like 4-4 and 5-5 and then maybe get some lucky shots and get a break."

Kodes' victory foiled what had loomed as possibly the first All-American men's semifinal in 20 years. The last was in 1951 when the title was won by Art Larsen over Herbie Flam.

Riessen gained the quarter-finals belatedly, beating Yugoslavia's left-handed Nicki Pilic 7-5, 7-6, 7-6 in a match halted by darkness Wednesday with the score 4-4 in the second set.

Riessen, one of the most improved of Lamar Hunt's contract pros, and the 6-foot-4 Smith will clash Friday, their match overshadowed by the return to the center court of 16-year-old Chris Evert, the Cinderella girl from Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Chris, whose popcorn serve and unorthodox two-fisted back-hand has eliminated many of the game's lady titans in a 46-match and 12-tournament victory streak stretching back to Feb. 2, takes on the top-seeded Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif.

"I will be loose," promised Chris, whose teacher-father and sisters and brothers are flying up from Fort Lauderdale to watch the match.

"I know what I have to do to beat her," said the determined Billie Jean. "It's just a question of whether my patterns work."

In the other women's semifinal, second-seeded Rosemary Cassals of San Francisco is favored over Kerry Melville of Australia.

Ashe's 612 miles per hour service — officially clocked —

Former Opponents Added To Mustangs

Coming to the Mustangs from the Texarkana Titans is quarterback Tommy Boutwell and from the Arkansas Diamonds is running back Wes Williams.

California and Milwaukee were tied 2-2 after 10 innings of their West Coast game. The Angels, held hitless for seven innings by Bill Parsons, tied it in the ninth on a three-bagger by Mickey Rivers.

In other American League contests, the Boston Red Sox exploded for a 12-6 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

Outstanding Golfer Race Nears End At Hastings

The closest race in the four-year history of the award will be decided in Hastings on Oct. 9-10 with three golfers still having a chance to overhaul St. Paul's Dan Bahensky in the chase for the Outstanding Nebraska Amateur Golfer trophy.

With four of the five tournaments used to determine the award winner, Bahensky holds a slim lead over Jim White of Hastings and Charlie Borner of North Platte and Mike Ley of Lincoln are still in the running.

The final tournament, the Indian Summer Open, is scheduled for the Lochland Country Club at Hastings on Oct. 9-10.

Ironically, neither Bahensky nor his two closest pursuers, White and Borner, has won any of the tournaments used the point tabulation to determine the Outstanding Nebraska Amateur.

Tournament winners thus far have been Don Bridge of Norfolk in the Tournament of Champions at Grand Island's Riverside Golf Club, Rick Schultz of Omaha in the Governor's Sweepstakes at Lincoln's Holmes and Pioneers Parks, Jim Shade of Norfolk in the Men's State Amateur and Ley in the Norfolk Labor Day Tournament.

Shade, who stands in fourth place with 47½ points, removed himself from contention by turning pro a month ago.

Points are awarded on the basis of 20 for first place, 19 for second, etc., through 20 places in each tournament.

Bahensky has compiled 58½ points to lead White by three with the one tournament remaining. Borner has 52 points and Ley, winner of the Norfolk tourney Monday, has 47 points.

The award was started four years ago by Dick Watson of Lincoln and Henry Hughes of Denver, partners in Golf Courses, Inc., an architectural and construction firm involved in the building of golf courses.

|------------------------------|--------|----------------------------|--------|

Devaney Acknowledges Fact Oregon Not South Dakota St.

... DUCKS POSE THREAT TO STRING

By HAL BROWN

Star Sports Editor

Nebraska football coach Bob Devaney knows well the threat Oregon poses to his Huskers' 19-game unbeaten string Saturday at Memorial Stadium, but the Husker boss is not bemoaning the fact that it's Oregon and not South Dakota State as they begin defense of their national championship.

"We're going to be playing a good team," Devaney said Thursday, "But if you can't beat the good teams, you have no business being considered for No. 1. We've got a lot of good teams on our schedule and you might as well play the good ones as the weak ones."

The Oregon game was added a year ago when the NCAA approved the playing of an 11th game.

"When we went looking for an additional opponent, we wanted to play the best team we could get that would come to Lincoln to play," he explained.

At that time, the Husker coach-athletic director thought his team would be playing at Northwestern and thus he didn't want another road game. Later, it was discovered that former athletic director Tippy Dye had managed to schedule both Northwestern and Texas A & M on the same date and Northwestern was dropped for the Aggies.

Since it's the opener for both teams, Devaney figures, "We should be as ready to play as they are."

"Our players came back pretty good this week. They've looked better the last couple of days and they've had more pep."

"They looked sharper today and I hope that continues." The Husker coach scheduled a short workout Friday at Memorial Stadium. Oregon also is due to work out briefly on the AstroTurf.

Nebraska Popularity Shrinks Ticket Supply

If you were in Cornhusker ticket manager Jim Pittenger's shoes you'd think so.

Each year the screws on the ticket supply turn tighter and tighter as the Cornhusker popularity rises. Some students, in fact, will miss several games this fall because there are no tickets left.

Pittenger, who was told to expect 1,000 more students on campus this year, was prepared to handle this demand. He based his computation on a figure of 87 per cent of the student body requesting tickets. But this year the figure zoomed to 90 per cent and enrollment increased not by 1,000, but by 1,700.

About 700 students failed to get the season tickets they requested.

Single game orders from the public had already been filled for the Oregon, Minnesota and Texas A&M games, so there was nowhere to turn for tickets.

Since single game orders have not been filled for the Utah State, Kansas, Colorado and Iowa State games Pittenger will be able to accommodate the "extra" student request.

NU Band To Salute Nation's No. 1 Coach

Nebraska head football coach Bob Devaney will be the subject of a salute from the Cornhusker Marching Band at halftime of Saturday's Nebraska-Oregon football game at Memorial Stadium.

The band's formations and music will revive memories of Devaney's first nine years at Nebraska.

Football Rally Set To Kick Off Season

A rally, starting at 5:45 p.m. at Sandoz Hall and winding up at the State Capitol at 6:30 p.m., has been scheduled Friday night by the Corn Cobs and Tassels, University of Nebraska student organizations, to help kick off the 1971 Husker football season.

Speakers at the rally will be NU head coach Bob Devaney and co-captains Jerry Tagge and Jim Anderson with Omaha KFAA sportscasters Lyell Bremser and Dave Blackwell serving as masters of ceremonies.

—CITY PREP GRID SEASON BEGINS—

Islanders Challenge Spartans At Seacrest Field

By VIRGIL PARKER

Prep Sports Writer

Capital City football fans will be treated to a four-gun salute when the gridiron season explodes on the local scene this weekend.

A pair of high school games Friday night preceded the University of Nebraska opener, with another prep clash set to follow Saturday night.

East High entertains Grand Island Friday night at Seacrest Field, while Pius X hosts Beatrice at the 'Bolts field the same evening.

Defending state Class A champion Southeast plays its initial contest of the new campaign Saturday night at Seacrest against North Platte, while the other two Lincoln high schools, Lincoln High and Northeast, are on the road for Friday night encounters.

Coach Lee Zentle's East High eleven hopes to pick up in the new season where it left off last fall, when the Spartans sputtered early but came on strong at the finish. Quarterback Scott Copple and halfback Jack Ball, both returners in 1970, head a cast of 11 returning lettermen.

Veteran Pius X coach Vince Aldrich guided the 'Bolts to the No. 1 spot in the statewide Class B ratings last season. Beatrice will be the first of six Class A foes which the Capital City club will face this fall.

Aldrich's son Mike, who quarterbacked the Thunderbolts last year and almost the entire starting line is back again.

Southeast coach Frank Solich graduated all but eight lettermen from his championship club, but runners Egbert Thompson and Mark Michel should give the Knights a potent ground game.

In 18 previous meetings, Lincoln High has never lost to Hastings and coach Andy Locher, with experienced quarterbacks Bob Folsom and Pat Weixelman, plus returning first string running backs Mark Weaver and Buster Barber appears ready to make it 19 in a row without a defeat.

Northeast, after a rebuilding year last fall under new head coach Bob Els, sports 11 lettermen and an all-veteran backfield of quarterback Gaylen Kennell, halfbacks Mel Knopp and Randy Schlegel and fullback Tom Henson. Though Fremont is without all-stater Ritch Bahe this season, the Tigers will be a formidable first game foe for the Rockets.

Memorial Stadium Will Be Raffled Off

Omaha (UPI) — The University of Nebraska football stadium will be raffled off next month.

The stadium will be "given away" for one day only as a fund raising effort for the construction of the new Camp Easter Seal, the Nebraska Easter Seal Society's camp for handicapped children, according to Robert Kerrey, development director for the society.

The $750,000 facility is being constructed near Agnew in Seward county.

Kerrey said 51,000 raffle tickets are being sold throughout the state and that 22 high school bands have taken on the project so far. He expects at least 50 to participate before the raffle is completed.

Among those giving the project support is Bob Devaney, University of Nebraska athletic director and football coach.

"It is my sincere hope that all the people of the state will support this effort to free handicapped Nebraskans and will demonstrate their support by participating in the raffling of NU's Memorial Stadium," he said.

The winning stub will be drawn at the society office Oct. 29. The winner will receive two free passes to the Nebraska-Colorado game in Lincoln Oct. 30 and will "act as owner" of the stadium at the game.

The winner will also receive a football autographed by the NU team and coaches and a "deed" to his property.

London (AP) — Chris Finnegan, British and Commonwealth light heavyweight boxing champion, scored a technical knockout over Bob Benoit of Oakham, Mass., at the Anglo-American Sporting Club Thursday night.

Referee Billy White stopped the contest in the eighth round of a scheduled 10-round.

Capital City football fans will be treated to a four-gun salute when the gridiron season explodes on the local scene this weekend.

A pair of high school games Friday night precede the University of Nebraska opener, with another prep clash set to follow Saturday night.

... TWO OPENING CONTESTS PIT RANKING TEAMS AGAINST EACH OTHER

By Associated Press

Twelve of the Top Twenty teams in The Associated Press preseason poll will be in action this weekend as college football's 102nd season gets under way.

Two contests pair ranking teams and the losers will have a difficult time trying to remain among the elite.

The weekend starts with two Friday night games, headlined by the meeting of fifth-ranked Southern California and No. 16 Alabama in the Los Angeles Coliseum. The other contest matches Brigham Young and North Texas State in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas. This was supposed to have opened the new Texas Stadium in Irving, a Dallas suburb, but had to be switched to the Cotton Bowl when the new field wasn't quite ready.

Saturday's pairing of ranking teams sends fourth-rated Michigan against No. 20 Northwestern in a key Big Ten opener at Evanston, Ill.

Top-ranked Notre Dame doesn't start play until next Saturday but No. 2 Nebraska, the defending national champ, is expected to have a struggle on its hands against explosive Oregon at Lincoln, Neb.

Elsewhere, California faces eighth-ranked

Arkansas in a night game at Little Rock, No. 9 Louisiana State entertains Colorado under the lights, Iowa visits 11th-ranked Ohio State, Pitt has a night contest on the West Coast with No. 15 UCLA, another after-dark pairing finds Georgia Tech, ranked 17th, at South Carolina, Oregon State is at No. 18 Georgia and Stanford's Rose Bowl kings, ranked 19th, play at Missouri.

Other interesting matchups are Boston College at West Virginia, Duke-Florida at Tampa night, Texas Tech at Tulane night, Illinois at Michigan State, Indiana at Minnesota, Mississippi State at Oklahoma State and Houston at Rice night.

Toledo, owner of the nation's longest winning streak at 23 games, visits East Carolina and Wichita State, which came back from a tragic plane crash early last season, is at Texas A&M. Both are night games.

ABC-TV kicks off its 1971 series of 36 games by airing nationally the Grambling-Morgan State contest at Yankee Stadium in New York 5:30 p.m., CDT. Both teams are among the better of the predominantly black ones and it marks the first time two College Division schools have been on national network television.

Sluggish Graebner Set Down By Old Adversary

OLD FRIENDS MEET

manager of Pimlico Race Course and Martin's former agent. Martin was reinstated after being away from racing for 14 years.

Forest Hills, N.Y. (AP) — America's confident Arthur Ashe Jr., a pair of flashy, lightning-quick Europeans, Tom Okker of The Netherlands and Jan Kodes of Czechoslovakia, shot their way into the men's semifinals Thursday in the U.S. Open Tennis Championship.

The United States is assured of another spot when second-seeded Stan Smith of Pasadena, Calif., and Marty Riessen, the greatly improved contract pro from Evanston, Ill., meet in a delayed quarter-final Friday.

Both the men's and women's finals are scheduled Sunday, with $20,000 going to the male winner and $6,600 to the lady champion.

Ashe, his high-bounding service and put-away volley in top form, crushed Manuel Orantes of Spain, 6-1, 6-2, 7-6.

Okker, seeded No. 4, runner-up to Ashe in the inaugural Open here in 1968, had too much get-up-and-go for the sluggish, seventh-seeded Clark Graebner of New York, winning 6-2, 6-3, 6-4.

Graebner's service one of the most potent in tennis, failed him. He served two double-faults in the sixth game and two more in the eighth game of the first set, losing both services and double-faulted at game point in the eighth game of the second, losing his service at love.

"I just couldn't find the range," Graebner said disconsolately afterward. "It wasn't my day."

He never has beaten Okker, a 27-year-old veteran of the pro tour, in five meetings covering a period of about five years.

Okker was too quick, covering the court like a jack-rabbit and putting away flicking volleys. Graebner's big game was a skeleton of that which carried him through the Pennsylvania and Eastern Grass Courts Championships in recent weeks.

Okker on Saturday will go against the winner of the Smith-Riessen match while Ashe takes his bullet serves against Kodes, the tournament giant-killer who continued his surprising sweep by stunning Frank Froehling III of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., 6-0, 7-6, 6-3.

"I never had it," the 6-foot-5 Froehling, runner-up here in 1963 and returning to bigtime tennis after a five-year layoff, lamented, "I was flat, but Kodes was very sharp."

"I think Ashe will beat him," Kodes more or less agreed.

"He should beat me," the 25-year-old Czech said. "Arthur is better on grass. He is very smart. He is a pro. He has won this championship before. He won't be scared or nervous."

Rams Slip 49ers

Los Angeles (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams defeated the San Francisco 49ers, 23-20, Thursday night in an NFL exhibition game.

Tournament winners thus far have been Don Bridge of Norfolk in the Tournament of Champions at Grand Island's Riverside Golf Club, Rick Schultz of Omaha in the Governor's Sweepstakes at Lincoln's Holmes and Pioneers Parks, Jim Shade of Norfolk in the Men's State Amateur and Ley in the Norfolk Labor Day Tournament.

Shade, who stands in fourth place with 47½ points, removed himself from contention by turning pro a month ago.

Points are awarded on the basis of 20 for first place, 19 for second, etc., through 20 places in each tournament.

Bahensky has compiled 58½ points to lead White by three with the one tourney remaining. Borner has 52 points and Ley, winner of the Norfolk tourney Monday, has 47 points.

The award was started four years ago by Dick Watson of Lincoln and Henry Hughes of Denver, partners in Golf Courses, Inc., an architectural and construction firm involved in the building of golf courses.

"I only hope I can keep the score close, like 4-4 and 5-5 and then maybe get some lucky shots and get a break."

Kodes' victory foiled what had loomed as possibly the first All-American men's semifinal in 20 years. The last was in 1951 when the title was won by Art Larsen over Herbie Flam.

Riessen gained the quarter-finals belatedly, beating Yugoslavia's left-handed Nicki Pilic 7-5, 7-6, 7-6 in a match halted by darkness Wednesday with the score 4-4 in the second set.

Riessen, one of the most improved of Lamar Hunt's contract pros, and the 6-foot-4 Smith will clash Friday, their match overshadowed by the return to the center court of 16-year-old Chris Evert, the Cinderella girl from Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Chris, whose popcorn serve and unorthodox two-handed back-hand has eliminated many of the game's lady titans in a 46-match and 12-tournament victory streak stretching back to Feb. 2, takes on the top-seeded Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif.

"I will be loose," promised Chris, whose teacher-father and sisters and brothers are flying up from Fort Lauderdale to watch the match.

"I know what I have to do to beat her," said the determined Billie Jean. "It's just a question of whether my patterns work."

In the other women's semifinal, second-seeded Rosemary Cassals of San Francisco is favored over Kerry Melville of Australia.

Former Opponents Added To Mustangs

Omaha — The Omaha Mustangs have obtained a couple of players from two of their former opponents.

Coming to the Mustangs from the Texarkana Titans is quarterback Tommy Boutwell and from the Arkansas Diamonds is running back Wes Williams.

California and Milwaukee were tied 2-2 after 10 innings of their West Coast game. The Angels, held hitless for seven innings by Bill Parsons, tied it in the ninth on a three-bagger by Mickey Rivers.

In other American League contests, the Boston Red Sox exploded for a 12-6 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

Outstanding Golfer Race Nears End At Hastings

The closest race in the four-year history of the award will be decided in Hastings on Oct. 9-10 with three golfers still having a chance to overhaul St. Paul's Dan Bahensky in the chase for the Outstanding Nebraska Amateur Golfer trophy.

With four of the five tournaments used to determine the award winner, Bahensky holds a slim lead over Jim White of Hastings and Charlie Borner of North Platte and Mike Ley of Lincoln are still in the running.

The final tournament, the Indian Summer Open, is scheduled for the Lochland Country Club at Hastings on Oct. 9-10.

Ironically, neither Bahensky nor his two closest pursuers, White and Borner, has won any of the tournaments used the point tabulation to determine the Outstanding Nebraska Amateur.

Tournament winners thus far have been Don Bridge of Norfolk in the Tournament of Champions at Grand Island's Riverside Golf Club, Rick Schultz of Omaha in the Governor's Sweepstakes at Lincoln's Holmes and Pioneers Parks, Jim Shade of Norfolk in the Men's State Amateur and Ley in the Norfolk Labor Day Tournament.

Islanders Challenge Spartans At Seacrest Field

same eyeing.

Defending state Class A champion Southeast plays its initial contest of the new campaign Saturday night at Seacrest against North Platte, while the other two Lincoln high schools, Lincoln High and Northeast, are on the road for Friday night encounters.

Lincoln High travels to Hastings, while Northeast journeys to Fremont for first-week battles.

Coach Lee Zentie's East High eleven hopes to pick up in the new season where it left off last fall, when the Spartans sputtered early but came on strong at the finish. Quarterback Scott Copple and halfback Jack Ball, both regulars in 1970, head a cast of 11 returning lettermen.

Veteran Pius X coach Vince Aldrich guided the 'Bolts to the No. 1 spot in the statewide Class B ratings last season. Beatrice will be the first of six Class A foes which the Capital City club will face this fall. Aldrich's son Mike, who quarterbacked the Thunderbolts last year and almost the entire starting line is back again.

Southeast coach Frank Solich graduated all but eight lettermen from his championship club, but runners Egbert Thompson and Mark Michel should give the Knights a potent ground game.

In 18 previous meetings, Lincoln High has never lost to Hastings and coach Andy Loehr, with experienced quarterbacks Bob Folsom and Pat Weixelman, plus returning first string running backs Mark Weaver and Buster Barber appears ready to make it 19 in a row without a defeat.

Northeast, after a rebuilding year last fall under new head coach Bob Els, sports 11 lettermen and an all-veteran backfield of quarterback Ritch Bahe this season, the Tigers will be a formidable first game foe for the Rockets.

Oklahoma

Norman, Okla. (AP) — Oklahoma Coach Chuck Fairbanks ran the Sooners through a team-delayed practice as the team went back to afternoon workouts.

The Sooners have been working out at night, trying to beat the heat the past week.

Fairbanks called the workout "all teaching, it wasn't a real

physical workout."

The Sooners spent most of the afternoon working on game-type adjustments. "We are playing against a team that has changed its offense."

Southern Methodist, OU's first opponent, has changed from a pro-offense to the flying-wishbone. "This makes it kind of tough to get ready, so our preparations will be speculative," Fairbanks said.

Missouri

Columbia, Mo. (AP) — Missouri football Coach Al Onofrio said John Venturi will get a full shot in his role as starting quarterback in Saturday's opener against Stanford.

"I'm not going to use him for just a short time," Onofrio said. "This is by no means a probationary period. He's a qualified and a good quarterback."

Kansas

Lawrence, Kan. (AP) — The Kansas football team put in about 60 minutes on the practice field in the final full-scale workout before the season opener Saturday against Washington State.

The session was devoted primarily to the kicking game and the two-minute drill.

Coach Don Fambrough said safety Jerry Evans, troubled with an injured shoulder, would be available for spot duty Saturday. Linebacker Don Perkins, also hobbled, is less likely to see action, Fambrough said.

Kansas State

Manhattan, Kan. (AP) — The Kansas State football team drilled on kickoff coverage and two-minute offense in a brief, light workout.

The Wildcats are scheduled for an even shorter session Friday, confined to loosening up drills in preparation for Saturday's season opener with Utah State.

Oklahoma State

Stillwater, Okla. (AP) — Senior quarterback Tony Pounds will be the starting signal-caller when Oklahoma State opens the 1971 football season against Mississippi State here Saturday. Coach Floyd Gass said Thursday.

Pounds and sophomore Brent Blackman had been listed as co-starters at quarterback. Pounds was OSU's regular quarterback last year.

Iowa State

Ames, Iowa (AP) — Iowa State's Reds defeated the reserves and freshmen 41-3 in a game scrimmage here and Coach Johnny Majors was still burning afterwards.

Majors leveled a verbal blast at the squad at halftime, criticizing poor play and a lack of effort.

"I told them 'I would rather you hate me and win than think I'm a great guy and lose,'" Majors said.

Oklahoma

Norman, Okla. (AP) — Oklahoma Coach Chuck Fairbanks ran the Sooners through a rain-delayed practice as the team went back to afternoon workouts.

The Sooners have been working out at night, trying to beat the heat the past week.

Fairbanks called the workout "all teaching, it wasn't a real physical workout."

The Sooners spent most of the afternoon working on game-type adjustments. "We are playing against a team that has changed its offense."

Southern Methodist, OU's first opponent, has changed from a pro-offense to the flying-wishbone. "This makes it kind of tough to get ready, so our preparations will be speculative," Fairbanks said.

Missouri

Columbia, Mo. (AP) — Missouri football Coach Al Onofrio said John Venturi will get a full shot in his role as starting quarterback in Saturday's opener against Stanford.

"I'm not going to use him for just a short time," Onofrio said. "This is by no means a probationary period. He's a qualified and a good quarterback."

Venturi had been one of four signal callers vying for the starting job before Onofrio named him No. 1 several days ago.

Colorado

Boulder, Colo. (AP) — The University of Colorado football team worked out in sweat clothes under the lights in a no-contact drill prior to Saturday night's season opener against Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge.

'White Shoes' Missing As Kansas State Takes On New Look

Manhattan, Kan. (AP) — Kansas State trots out a new football team here Saturday, and for the first opener in four years Old White Shoes won't be under center.

Lynn Dickey, the big, bushy-headed kid from Osawatomie, Kan., with the pleasant smile and rifle passing arm, has graduated to the pros. He's a rookie with the Houston Oilers and K-State has a new, untested quarterback.

Coach Vince Gibson admitted with a trace of nostalgia this week that things won't seem the same without Dickey around.

Dickey's impact on Kansas State football has been profusely documented in recent years. His exploits in passing for more than 6,000 yards in a brilliant career are in the record books. From the time he pulled on his white football shoes in the 1968 opener and directed the Wildcats to a 21-0 victory over Colorado State, Dickey was something special.

Saturday, Kansas State fans start learning how much of an impact his departure will make.

"It's different," Gibson said in an interview. "Old White Shoes gave us an umph. You miss him. You got used to him."

But, Gibson emphasizes, the Cats are looking forward and not dwelling on yesteryear as Vince begins his fifth year at the K-State helm.

"We're gonna forget him," Gibson said. "Life goes on."

Gibson said Kansas state will be a changed football team this fall, but he thinks it may be just as good as a year ago.

"I think our kids feel we're a different type of football team now," Gibson said. "The emphasis is different. Where we threw the ball close to 50 per cent of the time with Dickey now we'll probably throw around 30 per cent of the time. We hope to have a better balanced attack."

The heir to Dickey's quarterback throne is Dennis Morrison, who served his sophomore apprenticeship last year watching from the sidelines as Dickey and another senior, Max Arequin, did 99 per cent of the K-State quarterbacking.

Morrison, a 6-foot-3 junior from Pico Rivera, Calif., hasn't had any extensive game time since 1968 — his freshman season at Kansas State. He was redshirted in 1969 and was relegated to bench warmer a year ago.

But Gibson has faith in the lanky left-hander who turned 21 last May.

"Dennis Morrison has got to play well if we're going to have a good football team, and I think he will," Gibson said. "I think he's feeling some pressure, but that's natural. He's got the ability to do a good job."

Gibson gets a little defensive when people suggest K-State's football fortunes may sag with the departure of Dickey and a dozen other regulars from the 1970 team which finished 6-5 and tied Oklahoma for second in the Big Eight behind national champion Nebraska.

"We feel we're just about as good as anybody else," Gibson said. "Being second in our league wasn't bad. We're competitive now. We feel like we've proven that already. We no longer feel like we've got to prove ourselves. We've finished second in the conference and we've beaten every team in the Big Eight."

But, he concedes 1971 has an eerie feeling of the unknown about it as Saturday's opener against Utah State in KSU Stadium approaches.

"But you take a way Oklahoma and Nebraska and just about everybody else in the Big Eight is unknown, too," he observed.

Chapin is a returning squad-

man judged the most improved Cat offensive player in spring drills. Brittain is a redshirt held out of 1970 competition to gain maturity. Acker sent out last season after transferring from Hutchinson Junior College. None is a rank rookie.

That leaves Brown as the only true sophomore Gibson will call upon to start Saturday, and Brown will alternate with Kevin Vohoska, also a redshirt.

The rest of the starters are all veterans, including running backs Bill Butler and Tim McLane, who Gibson figures to gain a lot of yardage in 1971.

And, there is Isaac Jackson, the highly publicized and classy runner, to back up Butler at halfback. Many believe Jackson gives K-State the constant breakaway threat as Mack Herron used to do, but which was noticeably absent in 1970.

'White Shoes' Missing As Kansas State Takes On New Look

Manhattan, Kan. (AP) — Kansas State trots out a new football team here Saturday, and for the first opener in four years Old White Shoes won't be under center.

Lynn Dickey, the big, bushy-headed kid from Oswatomie, Kan., with the pleasant smile and rifle passing arm, has graduated to the pros. He's a rookie with the Houston Oilers and K-State has a new, untested quarterback.

Coach Vince Gibson admitted with a trace of nostalgia this week that things won't seem the same without Dickey around.

Dickey's impact on Kansas State football has been profusely documented in recent years. His exploits in passing for more than 6,000 yards in a brilliant career are in the record books. From the time he pulled on his white football shoes in the 1968 opener and directed the Wildcats to a 21-0 victory over Colorado State, Dickey was something special.

Saturday, Kansas State fans start learning how much of an impact his departure will make.

"It's different," Gibson said in an interview. "Old White Shoes gave us an umph. You miss him. You got used to him."

But, Gibson emphasizes, the Cats are looking forward and not dwelling on yesteryear as Vince begins his fifth year at the K-State helm.

"We're gonna forget him," Gibson said. "Life goes on."

Gibson said Kansas state will be a changed football team this fall, but he thinks it may be just as good as a year ago.

"I think our kids feel we're a different type of football team now," Gibson said. "The emphasis is different. Where we threw the ball close to 50 per cent of the time with Dickey now we'll probably throw around 30 per cent of the time. We hope to have a better balanced attack."

The heir to Dickey's quarterback throne is Dennis Morrison, who served his sophomore apprenticeship last year watching from the sidelines as Dickey and another senior, Max Areguin, did 99 per cent of the K-State quarterbacking.

Morrison, a 6-foot-3 junior from Pico Rivera, Calif., hasn't had any extensive game time since 1968 — his freshman season at Kansas State. He was redshirted in 1969 and was relegated to bench warmer a year ago.

But Gibson has faith in the lanky left-hander who turned 21 last May.

"Dennis Morrison has got to play well if we're going to have a good football team, and I think he will," Gibson said. "I think he's feeling some pressure, but that's natural. He's got the ability to do a good job."

Gibson gets a little defensive when people suggest K-State's football fortunes may sag with the departure of Dickey and a dozen other regulars from the 1970 team which finished 6-5 and tied Oklahoma for second in the Big Eight behind national champion Nebraska.

"We feel we're just about as good as anybody else," Gibson said. "Being second in our league wasn't bad. We're competitive now. We feel like we've proven that already. We no longer feel like we've got to prove ourselves. We've finished second in the conference and we've beaten every team in the Big Eight."

But, he concedes 1971 has an eerie feeling of the unknown about it as Saturday's opener against Utah State in KSU Stadium approaches.

"But you take away Oklahoma and Nebraska and just about everybody else in the Big Eight is unknown, too," he observed.

Chapin is a returning squad-

man judged the most improved Cat offensive player in spring drills. Brittain is a redshirt held out of 1970 competition to gain maturity. Acker sent out last season after transferring from Hutchinson Junior College. None is a rank rookie.

That leaves Brown as the only true sophomore Gibson will call upon to start Saturday, and Brown will alternate with Kevin Vohoska, also a redshirt.

The rest of the starters are all veterans, including running backs Bill Butler and Tim McLane, who Gibson figures to gain a lot of yardage in 1971.

And, there is Isaac Jackson, the highly publicized and classy runner, to back up Butler at halfback. Many believe Jackson gives K-State the constant breakaway threat as Mack Herron used to do, but which was noticeably absent in 1970.

U.S., So. Viets Reject Red Offer

Paris (AP) — The Viet Cong welcomed President Nixon's new peace negotiator, William J. Porter, to the Vietnam talks Thursday with an offer to meet with him privately to explain the Communist seven-point peace plan.

The United States and South Vietnam immediately branded the offer as a propaganda gesture and completely unacceptable.

North Vietnam and the Viet Cong in turn rejected Porter's proposal to place the entire conference under a wrap of secrecy in the hope of making progress toward a settlement away from the glare of publicity.

The fruitless exchange marked Porter's first appearance at the talks. He arrived in Paris Aug. 30. Following rejection of each side's proposal by the other, the delegations agreed to meet again next Thursday as usual.

Opening the 128th session of the talks, Porter urged Hanoi and the Viet Cong to consider his arrival as "an opportunity to make some progress toward a peaceful settlement." He revived a proposal made by his predecessor, David K. E. Bruce, for secret sessions where all four delegations could "present their views, respond to adversary views and find areas of compromise."

Hanoi's chief negotiator, Xuan Thuy, shook hands with Porter to welcome him to the talks, but flatly rejected his proposal for secret sessions.

"We had previously rejected this proposal and thought it had left the conference table at the same time as its author, Mr. Bruce," Thuy said.

Harris Hits Corporate Farming

Des Moines, Iowa (AP) — Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okla., carried his unofficial presidential campaign to Iowa Thursday and sharply criticized corporate farms for endangering the future of the small farmer.

Harris called for agribusiness to be required to abide by the same regulations imposed on other corporate ventures, mainly in the areas of collective bargaining and insurance for laborers.

"If we don't act quickly," Harris said, "soon this will be a country where the vast majority of the farm population will own nothing."

The Oklahoma Democrat went on to say, "There will be no family farms. The giant agribusinesses will control everything. The average farmer in this country will be the humble servant of the giant corporations, or he will have to move into the cities, adding to the already enormous problems there."

Harris criticized the practice of according corporate farms with large subsidies.

Tupamaros Release British Envoy Geoffrey Jackson

From Press Reports
Montevideo — British Ambassador Geoffrey Jackson, 50, who was held by the Uruguayan Tupamaro terrorists for eight months, was released Thursday night, a police spokesman said.

Jackson appeared to be in good health when he was freed at a church in the working class area of Nuevo Paris, a suburb about six miles from downtown Montevideo, the spokesman said.

The Tupamaros announced Wednesday night that Jackson had been given an "amnesty" as a direct result of the prison escape Monday by 106 members of the guerrilla organization.

Jackson's 244 days in captivity made him the longest-held kidnnap victim in recent history. The previous record was 208 days, held by U.S. agronomist Claude L. Fly of Fort Collins, Colo.

Fly also was abducted by the Tupamaros — on Aug. 7, 1970. He was released last March 1 after he suffered a heart attack.

Meet Sought With Regents On 'Guests'

By MILAN WALL
Star Staff Writer

Members of the Council on Student Life at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Thursday decided to seek a meeting with the NU Board of Regents to discuss the board's rejection of a "student guest rights" proposal.

The proposal, turned down by the regents in July, would have liberalized coed visitation policies on the Lincoln campuses, permitting students with parental consent to live in housing units that okayed coed visiting rights during designated hours.

The Council on Student Life (CSL), a student-faculty panel which deals with non-academic

Meeting Sought
Noting that various student interest groups have already begun efforts to draft another proposal, CSL members decided to seek an informal meeting with the regents to discuss their objections to the plan.

Ely Meyerson, interim executive dean of student affairs and a member of CSL, noted the council might be in a better position to "give guidance to students" if CSL members fully understood regents' reluctance to approve the policy.

The policy would have permitted students to entertain guests of the opposite sex in rooms and lounges during hours designated by a majority of the members of the dormitory unit, fraternity or cooperative living unit.

CSL Chairman Franklin Eldridge, associate dean of the College of Agriculture, said he saw a request for a meeting with the board as "not reacting but taking positive action."

He agreed to draft a letter, with the help of Meyerson, to ask the regents for the meeting. The council will review the letter at its meeting next Thursday.

Will Answer Questions
On another matter at its first fall meeting, CSL members voted to send two council members to Monday's Board of Regents meeting to respond to any questions from the board on the so-called "Prokop proposal" for fraternity matters at UNL.

Regent Robert Prokop of

Papillon has proposed that fraternities be removed from the CSL's jurisdiction, and instead be governed by a semi-autonomous board which reports directly to the regents.

No new CSL action was proposed, since the council has already sent a letter to the UNL chancellor saying the council is opposed to removal of fraternities from its jurisdiction.

One CSL member said the letter had objected to the plan on the grounds it would "weaken the effect of CSL and open the door to a series of groups to become semi-autonomous."

The council was told its letter, drafted at a special summer meeting, has been forwarded to President D. B. Varner by Interim UNL Chancellor C. Peter Magrath with Magrath's support.

Stay in Nebraska Contest Planned For Second Year

The "Stay in Nebraska" advertising contest for Nebraska high school juniors and seniors will be held again this year.

Prof. Albert Book, head of the advertising sequence at University of Nebraska School of Journalism, said last year's contest was "so enthusiastically received, that it will have a repeat performance this year."

Ads illustrating the advantages of Nebraska careers for the state's young people will be submitted by the students and judged by Book and Charles Piper, Vice-president of a Lincoln advertising agency. Scholarships of $500, $200 and $100 will be awarded the winners.

Young Demos President Wants Reorganization

H. Joseph Farmer, Nebraska Young Democrats president, has called for a "comprehensive reorganization of Young Democrats (YD) clubs across the state."

During an executive meeting in Lincoln, Farmer outlined a four-point program which stressed

—Registration of newly enfranchised voters.
—Involvement in senior party affairs.

—Formation of Young Democrats clubs at high school, college and county levels.

—Unification of YD clubs across the state through regular sectional meetings.

Star Staff Writer

Members of the Council on Student Life at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Thursday decided to seek a meeting with the NU Board of Regents to discuss the board's rejection of a "student guest rights" proposal.

The proposal, turned down by the regents in July, would have liberalized coed visitation policies on the Lincoln campuses, permitting students with parental consent to live in housing units that okayed coed visiting rights during designated hours.

The Council on Student Life (CSL), a student-faculty panel which deals with non-academic matters, had given the proposal unanimous approval last year.

Meeting Sought

Noting that various student interest groups have already begun efforts to draft another proposal, CSL members decided to seek an informal meeting with the regents to discuss their objections to the plan.

Ely Meyerson, interim executive dean of student affairs and a member of CSL, noted the council might be in a better position to "give guidance to students" if CSL members fully understood regents' reluctance to approve the policy.

The policy would have permitted students to entertain guests of the opposite sex in rooms and lounges during hours designated by a majority of the members of the dormitory unit, fraternity or cooperative living unit.

CSL Chairman Franklin Eldridge, associate dean of the College of Agriculture, said he saw a request for a meeting with the board as "not reacting but taking positive action."

He agreed to draft a letter, with the help of Meyerson, to ask the regents for the meeting. The council will review the letter at its meeting next Thursday.

Will Answer Questions

On another matter at its first fall meeting, CSL members voted to send two council members to Monday's Board of Regents meeting to respond to any questions from the board on the so-called "Prokop proposal" for fraternity matters at UNL.

Regent Robert Prokop of

Papillon has proposed that fraternities be removed from the CSL's jurisdiction, and instead be governed by a semi-autonomous board which reports directly to the regents.

No new CSL action was proposed, since the council has already sent a letter to the UNL chancellor saying the council is opposed to removal of fraternities from its jurisdiction.

One CSL member said the letter had objected to the plan on the grounds it would "weaken the effect of CSL and open the door to a series of groups to become semi-autonomous."

The council was told its letter, drafted at a special summer meeting, has been forwarded to President D. B. Varner by Interim UNL Chancellor C. Peter Magrath with Magrath's support.

Stay In Nebraska Contest Planned For Second Year

The "Stay in Nebraska" advertising contest for Nebraska high school juniors and seniors will be held again this year.

Prof. Albert Book, head of the advertising sequence at University of Nebraska School of Journalism, said last year's contest was "so enthusiastically received, that it will have a repeat performance this year."

Ads illustrating the advantages of Nebraska careers for the state's young people will be submitted by the students and judged by Book and Charles Piper, Vice-president of a Lincoln advertising agency. Scholarships of $500, $200 and $100 will be awarded the winners.

Young Demos President Wants Reorganization

H. Joseph Farmer, Nebraska Young Democrats president, has called for a "comprehensive reorganization of Young Democrats (YD) clubs across the state."

During an executive meeting in Lincoln, Farmer outlined a four-point program which stressed:

- Registration of newly enfranchised voters.
- Involvement in senior party affairs.
- Formation of Young Democrats clubs at high school, college and county levels.
- Unification of YD clubs across the state through regular sectional meetings.

Stocks Give In To Profit Taking

New York (AP) — Renewed profit taking took its toll on the stock market Thursday when President Nixon's economic address to Congress failed to include any surprises for investors.

Brokers said investor attitude continued to be positive and that profit taking was normal and constructive. They said the market appeared to be slowly digesting the good gains of the past three sessions.

Profit taking developed in sessions earlier this week, but the Dow Jones Industrial Average managed small gains anyway.

Thursday, however, the Dow average of 30 industrial stocks gave in to the pressure and closed down 5.04 to 935.89.

Trading in most issues was fairly quiet, but a large number of big block transactions helped boost volume.

Hog Prices Are 25c Higher

Omaha (AP) — Butcher hogs turned 25-50 higher Thursday in active trading, with a supply estimated at 8,465 head. Demand was good at the higher price levels as the market drew support from the dressed pork trade.

Bulk 200-270 lbs. butchers cleared Omaha pens at 17.75-18.75, around three loads 200-235 lbs. recorded 18.85-19.00.

Sows were strong to 25, instances 50 higher as consignments 650 lbs. or lighter went at 15.00-17.00.

Slaughter steers and heifers sold at fairly steady to strong prices although the trend was recorded on a typical late week clean-up type volume.

A load of prime 1,225 lbs. steers turned at 35.00, with the next best ticked up on choice steers — 33.15. Choice heifers went at 32.25 down.

Slaughter lambs gained 25-50 as one strong of around 1,000 head choice and prime shorn No. 1 pelts went at 18.50. Toppy woolled fats drew 25.50-26.50.

Peruvian Author Studying America And Its Magazines

Edmundo Levano, poet, author and editor-in-chief of Peru's largest magazine, Thursday visited the University of Nebraska's Institute of Latin American and International Studies.

Levano is in America as a participant in the International Visitor Program of the United States Department of State. At the top of his list of objectives are visits to the editorial offices of several American magazines.

He said he is becoming convinced that he cannot make accurate statements about entire nations without first seeing them.

As a poet, he has had three books published. In 1970 he was awarded the National Library of Peru Prize for his poetry.

Levano said he has written two books on labor problems in Peru. He is working on a book that will deal with world labor movements and how they relate to Peruvian labor problems.

For background, he plans to visit with American labor officials about relations between politics and labor, educational programs for workers and American labor's views on foreign policy toward Latin America.

He also hopes to examine American civil rights movements.

Levano termed the women's lib movement "interesting." He said one of the greatest inequities in Peru is the lack of opportunity for women — in education and in work.

WISHING WELL

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is six or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you.
